DESCRIPTION:

October 26: Talking With Kids About Race

Talking about race and racism can be intimidating and uncomfortable but talking openly about racism, bias and differences is critical to raising anti-racist children and transforming systems of oppression.

This session for parents and caregivers will address the following topics and allow time for discussion and Q&A.

What are social identities?

What is racism and anti-racism?

Why should I talk about race?

How should I talk about race?
