ABOUT SCATTER

Scatter is an early stage startup specializing in developing computer software for the new age of travel, social connection, and information sharing. Right now we are focused on the development of our app which will enable users to plot pins, connect, and share recommendations with friends across the globe!

WHAT WE'RE LOOKING FOR

Seeking a full stack engineering intern who is quick to learn and enjoys thinking outside the box! You will be working alongside our lead engineer to help debug and trouble shoot issues that arise during our early launch to the app store. This is a great opportunity to build experience working with an iOS application and will provide a great portfolio addition!

TECHNOLOGIES WE USE

React Native
Node.js/Typescript
