

Figure 10.34. A possible distinction between 'Awareness' and 'Consciousness' within the context of the Peircean principle of ITR (Irreducible Triadic Relation; Chapter 9). The symbol, "A \rightarrow B", can be read as "A determines B", "B presupposes A", or "B supervenes on A", etc. f = physical or physiological process; g = mental process; h = information flow resulting from historical and/or social selection processes. Reproduced from S. Ji (2017) The Cell Language Theory: Connecting Mind and Matter. World Scientific, New Jersey (in press).