To Whom It May Concern

Vijaya Dashmi, also known as Dashain, is the most auspicious and anticipated festival in the Nepalese annual calendar, celebrated by the Nepalese Hindus throughout the globe. The festival falls in September or October, starting from the bright lunar fortnight of the month and ending on the full moon.

Although it is a 15 day festival, the Tenth day is the day when family members and relatives get together to exchange wishes and get blessing from the elders. This year the tenth day falls on Tuesday, Oct 11th, 2016.

We would like to request school districts to excuse the absence of the Hindu students from the Nepalese origin on Tuesday, Oct 11th so that they can observe their most important religious festival with their families and/or relatives.

If you have any question regarding this, please feel free to reach out to us.

Happy Vijaya Dashami!

Thank you.
