

Updates since January 4, 2017 Boston Calling / ACA Meeting

- Boston Calling officially applied for its permits with the City of Boston and presented to the Special Events Committee on January 23, 2017.

Captain Russell is hosting a joint meeting on March 1, 2017 with Cambridge Police, Harvard

- We have met with the MBTA, who have agreed to expanding T service during the event, as well as creating language to share with festival attendees to help them utilize public transportation. Additionally, we have met with MassDOT and briefed them on the event details.
- We have met with Allston Village Main Streets, Harvard Sq. Business Association, and Brighton Main Streets; all groups are enthusiastic to work with us and help drive customers to their members locations.
- Boston Calling has continued to conduct meet & greets with local residents, business owners & musicians, and plans to do so up to the event weekend, to ensure that all residents and stakeholders feel included in the planning process.

We have met with Councilor Annissa Essabi George and updated her on all of the event details to date.

Full traffic and transportation plan should be finalized and ready to share in early April.
