The Southwest Center of the Pacific Institute for Research and Evaluation is seeking up to 10 data collectors to help with a count and survey of homeless youth in Albuquerque and Bernalillo County, New Mexico. Must be or appear to be between 18-25 years old to apply. High school diploma not required. Data collectors are expected to approach and talk to strangers to invite them to participate in a survey. Travel to and from data collection sites is necessary. There are an estimated 80 hours of work (including paid training) in total on the project from June to August to be completed at various times (e.g., weekends, evenings, early morning) and locations (primarily outdoors). Each data collection effort will last approximately 8 hours for each workday - 3 days in a row, 3 separate times - each separated by a few weeks.

Must respect community members of diverse race, ethnicity, language, income/class, home situation, gender identity, and sexual orientation.
