Why you should attend this gathering of international-oriented professionals:

- Those “in the know” expect international buying activity to continue to increase (additional revenue stream)
- Learn how to overcome unique challenges when working with international investors
- More than half of international investments are financed with cash; one-third of deals were financed with debt from U.S. sources
- Over the past five years, commercial practitioners experienced a significant increase in the number of international clients
- Florida, California and Texas enjoy most attractive status for foreigners to purchase property
- Hear success stories from CRE related experts in the Tampa Bay area

Panel of speakers and presenters will be announced soon!
