Summary:

Great turnout for the first remote meeting!

Andrew Quickly reminded everyone that yearly dues are up again. Reminded everyone that we should be sure to be aware to follow rules for any sites we are flying that landowners have specific rules. Then gave a quick update on beach access in Pacific City. Overall, we should be good with the North side dune access at no charge. South of the dune will be off limits unless there is an emergency. Other items he brought up were holding a 'Safety Day' in the Spring and quarterly club outings. These will need more development, or be polled for in the Newsletter.

Luke then presented the P2/New Pilot to the Area initiative that he has been working on with Trevor (not in attendance). He went over the outline for what they have developed to this point and that they plan to hold their first meeting on January 19th. It will be a remote meeting. They have been working with experienced pilots and instructors. This will be an ongoing project that will help to integrate new P2s as well as pilots that are newer to the area. This was the major topic of the meeting and many other pilots gave their opinions. It was a positive conversation with many good ideas brought up to help continue development.

Mark and David led the next conversation about the possibility of having the Oceanside Open this Spring. Due to COVID the consensus is that it will be doubtful to have the event as it is normally run, but that we will keep the tentative dates for the weekend of April 30th. If possible, there may be some informal event.

Finished up the meeting discussing recent flights in the area.

Major takeaways from the meeting were as follows:

- Andrew will continue to work on potential Safety Day and organize a possible meetup this quarter.
- Luke and Trevor will continue to develop New P2/New Area Pilot program
- Oceanside Open remains tentative
- If Rika is at your flying site that day, find her for a landebier!
