1Q10 Results: Quantitatively Fine; Qualitative Decline

- 1Q11 profits up 36%; 6% above our estimates Union's 1Q11 profits increased 36% yoy and were sustained by its strong loan growth (+30% yoy), higher NIMs (+74bps yoy) and sharply lower loan loss charges. However, qualitatively, we believe all was not so well pains of growing were beginning to show up in NIM pressure (down 34bps qoq, higher than peers), decline in fee income growth, increase in operating costs (mostly permanent) and higher delinquencies. While the numbers look good, we believe, qualitatively this is a modest quarter.
- P&L: NIMs off peak, costs high, but watch for credit costs Union's NIMs have fallen sharply (-34bps qoq) from their peak in 4Q10, core fee income growth dropped to 10% yoy (management though confident of regaining momentum) and operating costs increased 46% yoy (some one-offs in employee costs, but we believe largely recurring). This was, however, offset by higher trading gains qoq and a sharp decline in loan loss charges (sharply lowering coverage levels). We believe it raises income volatility going forward and, coupled with management guidance of delinquencies peaking in 2Q, could impact earnings meaningfully.
- Balance sheet: Growth, but watch the quality Union's loan growth remains strong (+30% yoy), broad based and management maintains its 25% guidance for FY11. Its deposit franchise has sustained with improved CASA levels of 32%. However, we believe a rise in delinquencies (2.6% annualized) and lower coverage levels imply lesser cushion to absorb likely NPL pressures. Management guides to some pressures in 2Q but improving thereafter, maintains its full-year guidance of 2.1% NPLs (2.2% currently).
- Maintain Sell: Good earnings profile but at risk of higher delinquencies Union's overall return profile remains above most peers, but its higher valuations and near-term risk from higher delinquencies suggest downside pressures.

Union Bank Of India

Company description

Union Bank is the seventh largest bank in India and sixth largest government bank, with a large balance sheet size and diversified distribution network. It currently has 2,821 branches and 2,127 ATMs spread across the country. Its business is distributed across the country with a slight concentration in Western India. Union Bank listed in 2002. A follow-on offer was transacted in February 2006, with the government holding a 55% stake in the bank.

Investment strategy

We rate Union Bank Sell/Low Risk. Union has key strengths with its large balance sheet and distribution, low operating costs (as a proportion of assets) below industry average, good technology ahead of its peer group in implementation, and a clean balance sheet with low gross and net NPLs (improving above industry levels). However, the risks to Union lie in: 1) Its low balance sheet liquidity, and the need to grow term deposits rapidly to fund loan growth; 2) Its relatively lower capital cushion, which is likely to moderate asset growth in a higher growth environment; 3) Its NIMs have been impacted recently due to dependence on bulk deposits induced by the highly volatile interest rate environment. We believe Union's current valuations are pricing in most of the upside and leave little room for outperformance.

Valuation

Our target price of Rs275 is based on our EVA model, which we believe captures the long-term value of the business and is a standard valuation measure for our India banking coverage. We are factoring in a risk-free rate of 8.0%, with an industry average spread (200bps) and a longer term cost income ratio of 37%. We also benchmark our target price on a 1.3x 1Yr Fwd PBV, which translates to a fair value of Rs293. We believe Union should trade at a 10% discount to the larger banks like SBI and PNB, due to: 1) its lower capital cushion which is likely to cap upside in a higher growth environment; 2) its modest deposit mix, which increases dependence on wholesale funding; and 3) sharp increase in restructured assets. Additionally, Union's NIMs have come under pressure and could remain subdued as its high cost bulk deposits are likely to re-price with a lag. We use EVA as a primary methodology as we believe it better adjusts for the relatively dynamic cost of capital, and as it is usually the more conservative target price in a difficult interest rate environment.

Risks

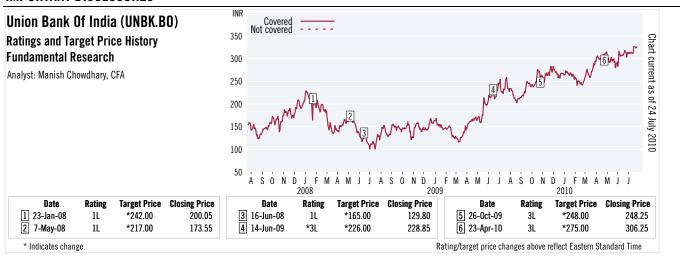

We rate Union Bank Low Risk, as opposed to the Medium Risk suggested by our quantitative risk rating system, which tracks 260-day historical share price volatility, given Union's large balance sheet, strong management and superior return profile. Key upside risks which could sustain the shares above our target price include: 1) continued low interest rate environment which could support NIMs, 2) easing of asset quality pressures, 3) higher loan growth environment, and 4) improvement in its deposit mix.

Guide to Citi Investment Research & Analysis (CIRA) Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

CIRA's stock recommendations include a risk rating and an investment rating.

Risk ratings, which take into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria, are: Low (L), Medium (M), High (H), and Speculative (S).

Investment ratings are a function of CIRA's expectation of total return (forecast price appreciation and dividend yield within the next 12 months) and risk rating.

For securities in emerging markets (Asia Pacific, Emerging Europe/Middle East/Africa, and Latin America), investment ratings are:Buy (1) (expected total return of 15% or more for Low-Risk stocks, 20% or more for Medium-Risk stocks, 30% or more for High-Risk stocks, and 40% or more for Speculative stocks); Hold (2) (5%-15% for Low-Risk stocks, 10%-20% for Medium-Risk stocks, 15%-30% for High-Risk stocks, and 20%-40% for Speculative stocks); and Sell (3) (5% or less for Low-Risk stocks, 10% or less for Medium-Risk stocks, 15% or less for High-Risk stocks, and 20% or less for Speculative stocks).

Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At other times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations from specified ranges will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Guide to Citi Investment Research & Analysis (CIRA) Corporate Bond Research Credit Opinions and Investment Ratings: CIRA's corporate bond research issuer publications include a fundamental credit opinion of Improving, Stable or Deteriorating and a complementary risk rating of Low (L), Medium (M), High (H) or Speculative (S) regarding the credit risk of the company featured in the report. The fundamental credit opinion reflects the CIRA analyst's opinion of the direction of credit fundamentals of the issuer without respect to securities market vagaries. The fundamental credit opinion is not geared to, but should be viewed in the context of debt ratings issued by major public debt ratings companies such as Moody's Investors Service, Standard and Poor's, and Fitch Ratings. CBR risk ratings are approximately equivalent to the following matrix: Low Risk Triple A to Low Double A; Low to Medium Risk High Single A through High Triple B; Medium to High Risk Mid Triple B through High Double B; High to Speculative Risk Mid Double B and Below. The risk rating element illustrates the analyst's opinion of the relative likelihood of loss of principal when a fixed income security issued by a company is held to maturity, based upon both fundamental and market risk factors. Certain reports published by CIRA will also include investment ratings on specific issues of companies under coverage which have been assigned fundamental credit opinions and risk ratings. Investment ratings are a function of CIRA's expectations for total return, relative return (to publicly available Citigroup bond indices performance), and risk rating. These investment ratings are: Buy/Overweight the bond is expected to outperform the relevant Citigroup bond market sector index (Broad Investment Grade, High Yield Market or Emerging Market), performances of which are updated monthly and can be viewed at https://fidirect.citigroup.com/ using the "Indexes" tab; Hold/Neutral Weight the bond is expected to perform in line with the relevant Citigroup bond market
