Improved ARRs and Steady Occupancy levels drive BUY growth

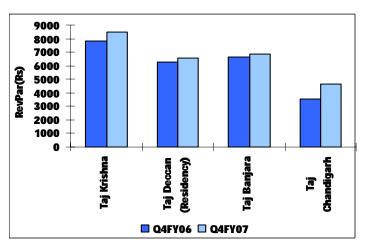

Taj GVK Ltd. (TGL) reported Q4FY07 results marginally above our expectations. During the quarter, the company's net sales grew by 11.2% to Rs677.5mn from Rs609.5mn in Q4FY06. Average Room Revenue (ARR) increased by 9% to Rs8,000 from Rs7,325, while occupancy levels remained steady at 82%. Net profits increased by 21.5% to Rs187.3mn from Rs154.2mn resulting in an EPS of Rs2.99 as against Rs2.46 in Q4FY06.

Demand in Hyderabad is expected to grow at 10% annually; we believe this growth would help maintain ARRs and occupancy levels despite supply inflow by 2009. TGL with its dominant presence in Hyderabad (three properties) along with further expansion plans is likely to benefit from this growth in the city. At the current market price of Rs179, the stock trades at 16.5x FY08E and 11.7x FY09E. We continue to maintain 'Buy' on the stock.

Key highlights of Q4FY07 results:

RevPar (Revenue per available room) growing strong: TGL's net sales increased from Rs609mn in Q4FY06 to Rs677.5mn in Q4FY07, growth of 11.2%. This increase was mainly driven by 9% YoY growth in ARRs, from Rs7,325 to Rs8,000. Occupancy levels have been steady at 82%. As a result, RevPar increased by 9% from Rs6,085 to Rs6,648 (see chart below).

Improved EBITDA margins: During the quarter, TGL's EBITDA increased by 18.3% YoY to Rs336mn from Rs284mn. The strong growth in Revpar, supported by improved operational efficiency, resulted in 300bps rise in EBITDA margins to 49.6% from 46.6%.

Revenue break-up: Growth in ARRs and steady occupancy levels has enabled TGL to increase room revenue by 9.3% to Rs403mn from Rs368mn. Revenue from food and beverages (F&B) increased by 10% YoY to Rs230mn from Rs207mn. Going ahead, we believe F&B segment would exhibit a growth of 15-16% on account of TGL promoting its restaurant business, patronised by its customers and other walk-in guests.

- Increased net profit and margins: Net profit increased by 22% from Rs154mn in Q4FY06 to Rs187mn in Q4FY07. Similarly, net profit margins also improved by 240bps to 27.7% as against 25.3%.
- Delay in commissioning of Chennai property: The commissioning of TGL's Chennai property, earlier expected to be operational by June 2007, has been delayed to October 2007. Chennai market is expected to see a growth in business activity on account of manufacturing units set up by automobile companies and IT companies setting up new facilities. We therefore believe, that the operation of this 215 room property will enhance the company's growth going forward.
- Break-up of Customer: About 50-60% of TGL's customers are on annual contracts through tie-ups with the GDS (Global Distribution System) of the Taj Group, while the remaining are walk-in-customers; these contracts stand for renewal in January each year and the company has been able to renegotiate them at higher ARRs.
- Capex plan: The green-field and brown-field projects undertaken by the company would require capex of Rs4,150mn and an additional sum of Rs350mn as on-going maintenance capex. The company would fund this through a mix of debt (Rs2,500mn) and internal accruals of Rs2,000mn.
- ▲ Valuation: Considering the delay in commissioning of Chennai property, we have revised our earning estimates downward by 5% to Rs10.8 in FY08E. Currently, the stock is trading at 16.5xFY08E and 11.7xFY09E earnings. Given the expansion plans of the company and the favourable industry conditions, we continue to maintain a 'Buy' on the stock.
