Aban Offshore (ABAN.BO)

Buy: Stand-Alone 4Q Results a Tad Disappointing; Outlook Remains Positive

- Operational results in-line; forex gains boost other income — Stand-alone 4Q earnings of Rs295m were boosted by forex hedging gains (Rs180m), recognized as other income under Indian GAAP and Rs140m of interest income from subsidiary. Operationally, 4Q EBITDA of Rs477m was below average EBITDA in trailing 3 quarters (Rs666m) as Aban II was not in operation for part of 4Q.
- Consolidation impact from FY08 — With the Sinvest acquisition having concluded in March 2007, full impact of consolidation will be visible only in the current financial year. We expect Aban to report a sharp increase in consolidated earnings during FY08 with 5 new assets coming on-stream.
- Reiterate Buy/High Risk — Operating environment continues to be supportive of strong growth in cash flows, which should enable Aban to rapidly reduce its gearing levels. Potential triggers for stock performance remain 1) better than expected re-pricing of existing rigs and 2) valuations attributed to Singapore subsidiary on listing.

Aban Offshore

Company description

Aban Offshore, the flagship company of the Aban group, was established in 1986 as an Indo-US joint venture in offshore drilling. The company was set up as Aban Lloyd Chiles Offshore by M.A. Abraham in collaboration with Chiles Offshore Inc. (a drilling company based in the US which has now merged with ENSCO). Aban Offshore is the largest offshore oilfield service provider in the private sector in India. With the acquisition of the Norwegian company Sinvest in 2007, the consolidated entity has 9 offshore drilling assets, one FPU and has a pipeline of 9 more drilling assets (including 2 bare boat charters) which will come on stream during 2007-2009. While Aban's primary area of operation is the drilling and oilfield services sector, it is also engaged in power generation through renewable energy (windmills).

Investment thesis

Our target price of Rs2850 (Rs1700 earlier based on a DCF of Aban standalone) is based on 8x FY09E consolidated EPS in line with average target P/E multiples for its global peer group. We believe that Aban should trade in line with its peers — despite the company being smaller in size — as a large part of its existing fleet is locked into long-term contracts, which provides high visibility to the company's volume-led earnings growth prospects. Consolidated with Sinvest, Aban is a material play on the global offshore services industry with a pipeline of 9 assets (2 refurbished drillships, 6 new jackups, and 1 refurbished jack-up - including 2 bare boat charters for a drillship and a jackup) which will come on stream over CY07-09 (adding to an existing fleet of 10 offshore assets). This well-timed fleet expansion will help Aban capitalize on the strong cyclical uptrend in the offshore drilling industry. Strong operational cashflows will help Aban service and pay-down part of its large debt (US$2.4bn) over the next three years. We see growth in earnings as a key share-price driver.

<http://deadpresident.blogspot.com>

Valuation

Our target price for Aban of Rs2850 is based on 8x FY09E consolidated earnings, in line with global peers (US offshore companies) — earlier target price of Rs1700 was based on a DCF for Aban standalone assets. We believe that Aban should trade in line with its peers. Although it is smaller in size, it has a long and good track record of managing new acquisitions and deploying them.

Risks

Our quantitative risk-rating system, which tracks 260-day historical share-price volatility, rates Aban at Medium Risk. We, however, assign a High Risk to the stock due to the cyclical nature of the business, revenue concentration, and high leverage. Key risks that could prevent the shares reaching our target are: E&P activity decline; long-term day rates vary with the demand-supply scenario in the rest of the world; delay in completing shipyard work could result in jack-ups going on day rates later than expected, which could result in lower than expected earnings; higher-than-anticipated shipyard costs could adversely impact cash flows; and currency fluctuations.

Guide to Fundamental Research Investment Ratings:

Citigroup Investment Research's stock recommendations include a risk rating and an investment rating.

Risk ratings, which take into account both price volatility and fundamental criteria, are: Low (L), Medium (M), High (H), and Speculative (S).

Investment ratings are a function of Citigroup Investment Research's expectation of total return (forecast price appreciation and dividend yield within the next 12 months) and risk rating.

For securities in emerging markets (Asia Pacific, Emerging Europe/Middle East/Africa, and Latin America), investment ratings are: Buy (1) (expected total return of 15% or more for Low-Risk stocks, 20% or more for Medium-Risk stocks, 30% or more for High-Risk stocks, and 40% or more for Speculative stocks); Hold (2) (5%-15% for Low-Risk stocks, 10%-20% for Medium-Risk stocks, 15%-30% for High-Risk stocks, and 20%-40% for Speculative stocks); and Sell (3) (5% or less for Low-Risk stocks, 10% or less for Medium-Risk stocks, 15% or less for High-Risk stocks, and 20% or less for Speculative stocks).

Investment ratings are determined by the ranges described above at the time of initiation of coverage, a change in investment and/or risk rating, or a change in target price (subject to limited management discretion). At other times, the expected total returns may fall outside of these ranges because of market price movements and/or other short-term volatility or trading patterns. Such interim deviations from specified ranges will be permitted but will become subject to review by Research Management. Your decision to buy or sell a security should be based upon your personal investment objectives and should be made only after evaluating the stock's expected performance and risk.

Guide to Corporate Bond Research Credit Opinions and Investment Ratings:

Citigroup Investment Research's corporate bond research issuer publications include a fundamental credit opinion of Improving, Stable or Deteriorating and a complementary risk rating of Low (L), Medium (M), High (H) or Speculative (S) regarding the credit risk of the company featured in the report. The fundamental credit opinion reflects the CIR analyst's opinion of the direction of credit fundamentals of the issuer without respect to securities market vagaries. The fundamental credit opinion is not geared to, but should be viewed in the context of debt ratings issued by major public debt ratings companies such as Moody's Investors Service, Standard and Poor's, and Fitch Ratings.

<http://deadpresident.blogspot.com>

CBR risk ratings are approximately equivalent to the following matrix:

Low Risk -- Triple A to Low Double A
Low to Medium Risk -- High Single A through High Triple B
Medium to High Risk -- Mid Triple B through High Double B
High to Speculative Risk -- Mid Double B and Below

The risk rating element illustrates the analyst's opinion of the relative likelihood of loss of principal when a fixed-income security issued by a company is held to maturity, based upon both fundamental and market risk factors. Certain reports published by Citigroup Investment Research will also include investment ratings on specific issues of companies under coverage which have been assigned fundamental credit opinions and risk ratings. Investment ratings are a function of Citigroup Investment Research's expectations for total return, relative return (to publicly available Citigroup bond indices performance), and risk rating. These investment ratings are: Buy/Overweight -- the bond is expected to outperform the relevant Citigroup bond market sector index (Broad Investment Grade, High Yield Market or Emerging Market), performances of which are updated monthly and can be viewed at <http://www.sd.ny.ssbm.com/> using the "Indexes" tab; Hold/Neutral Weight -- the bond is expected to perform in line with the relevant Citigroup bond market sector index; or Sell/Underweight -- the bond is expected to underperform the relevant sector of the Citigroup indexes.
