

Daily Calls

Sensex: We said, "Closing above previous high opens up possibility of further upsides ... Today we may watch if upside up to 15107 can be reached or sustained above." Opening the expected upsides, Index touched 15257, but failed to sustain. While Sensex finished only 0.6% higher, Small-Cap Index had lost 1% on -ve A/D ratio.

The action can be best described as "Shooting Star", which stands for a candle that failed in its attempt to shoot up. Such a candle has certain bearish undertones if we see a follow-up selling below its low, which was at 14993. It may, for the time being, open only limited downsides of 14900-931 or 14600. Positive if 14993 holds.
