VIEW POINT: WELL DESERVED REST

After 900 points of relentless run, markets took a breather yesterday. While index biggies are catching their breath, derivative counters are hard at work. Open interest has reached a level of Rs. 60600 cr, just 500 crore short of highest levels. Though expiry is 6 sessions away, a smooth rollover would demand a far better environment and higher premium in next month futures.

Unless Wipro surprises the markets with better than expected results, Poor numbers from Intel and downgrade of Cisco will weigh on performance of Tech stocks. Decline in crude oil prices augers well for oil marketing companies in the long run. Resistance is in the vicinity of 14215 levels and beyond that Sensex can fly like kite. Support comes in at 14050.

THE INDICATORAcross the Atlantic

U.S. stocks closed mixed on Tuesday, after investors digested in-line earnings results from Wells Fargo & Co. and a weak forecast from Symantec Corp., while energy shares weighed amid a continued slide in crude oil prices

The Dow rose 26.51 points, or 0.21%, to 12,582.59, thanks to gains of 1.5% or more in components IBM and DuPont . The S&P 500 added 1.17 points, or 0.08%, to 1431.90, while the Nasdaq Composite fell 5.04 points, or 0.2%, to 2497.78.

The weakness in crude spilled over to this week, as February futures shed $1.78 to finish at $51.21. Other energy contracts were mixed.

After the markets, Intel posted better sales but the net profit came in less than expected, bearing scars from the fight with AMD. This could further weaken technology stocks.

On the corporate side, another disappointment came from the homebuilding sector, where Centex said writeoffs would lead to a third-quarter loss. Excluding items, Centex said its adjusted earnings will still probably miss analysts' consensus forecast. The stock fell by $1.55, or 2.9%, to $51.61.

A number of notable analyst actions captured investor attention, including a double downgrade of networking giant Cisco . Prudential cut its rating on the stock to neutral from overweight, and Banc of America lowered its rating to neutral from buy. Even so, BofA kept its $30 price target. Cisco lost 88 cents, or 3%, to $28.04.

Elsewhere on the research front, Goldman Sachs resumed coverage of Motorola with a neutral rating, and JPMorgan upgraded Sirius and XM to overweight from neutral.

Meanwhile, Banc of America downgraded XM to neutral from buy. Shares of XM finished 0.1% higher, while Sirius gained 1.2%.

Among early reporters, Symantec cut its third-quarter earnings outlook, citing a weaker-than-expected performance by its data-center management business and higher deferrals than anticipated. The company also offered a disappointing fourth-quarter forecast. Symantec dropped $2.69, or 13.1%, to $17.79

Away from equities, the New York Federal Reserve said its Empire State Index unexpectedly fell to a reading of 9.13 in January from a revised 22.2 in December. The index now sits at its lowest level since May 2005. Economists had expected the January reading to slip to 20.0.
