VIEW POINT: INFOSYS FAILS TO EXCITE

Infosys PAT at Rs 983 Cr just about meets the market expectations but severely falls short of the hush-hush figure of Rs 1,030 cr. Infosys will lead the markets down today and the level of 3,760 in the Nifty could be tested.

The international cues have not been bad though. Oil continues to slide and technology stocks in the US have held up. But the sentiment was weak to begin with and would further get weakened. With engineering, telecom and banking in a brace mode, the IT sector, on whom the markets had fixed their last hopes on, will crumble.

Across the Atlantic

American stocks clawed back from the pit in which they fell early on. Strength in the technology stocks and some rear guard action by Alcoa, which came out with market warming results, helped the indices overcome the commodity sell-off.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 25.56 points, or 0.21%, to 12,442.16, and the S&P 500 was up 2.74 points, or 0.19%, at 1414.85. The Nasdaq gained 15.50 points, or 0.63%, at 2459.33.

A 4.8% rise in Apple, which continued to hit record highs a day after CEO Steve Jobs unveiled an allin-one phone and iPod device, supported the Nasdaq's advance. Apple jumped $4.43 to $97.

Alcoa reported after the previous close, saying its profits and revenue for the fourth quarter topped analysts' estimates. Alcoa jumped $1.71, or 6%, to $30.23 and was the Dow's best performer. Genentech slipped 95 cents, or 1.1%, to close at $83.74 ahead of its quarterly results

Elsewhere, Chevron said fourth-quarter earnings would be hurt by lower commodity prices and reduced downstream margins. Chevron gave back $1.22, or 1.7%, to $69.41.

Crude-oil futures closed with an almost 3% loss Wednesday to push their benchmark contract to its lowest level in 19 months after a U.S. government report showed that supplies of distillates and gasoline rose for a fourth week in a row, but crude inventories have been falling for seven weeks.

Crude for February delivery closed down $1.62 at $54.02 a barrel on the New York Mercantile Exchange after earlier touching a low of $53.80. The contract hasn't traded or closed at levels this low since late May to early June 2005.

The sharp pull-back in oil and commodities in recent days has been seen as a sign that U.S. and global growth might be slowing.

Along with crude, most other energy contracts were weaker, as were precious metals. Gold futures eased $1.60 to close at $613.40 an ounce, and silver fell 15 cents to finish at $12.44 an ounce.

The market also wrestled with comments from Chicago Federal Reserve President Michael Moskow, who provided his economic outlook at a business luncheon in Iowa.

"My predominant concern remains the risks to the inflation outlook," said Moskow. "We've seen some welcome easing in inflation in the past couple of months, and I'm hopeful this development will continue. But there is still the risk that resource pressures or other factors, such as elevated inflation expectations, could prevent actual inflation from falling in a timely fashion."

The Commerce Department said the U.S. trade deficit narrowed to $58.2 billion in November, the lowest level since July 2005, from $58.9 billion in October. Economists expected the deficit to widen to $59.8 billion.

Treasuries eased following the data. The 10-year fell by 5/32, yielding 4.68%. The 30-year bond slipped 15/32 to lift the yield to 4.77%. The dollar was rallying against other major currencies.
