VIEW POINT: POWER GRID'S DAY OUT

For a change, the markets will not be watching where the Sensex would open or how would the Nifty behave. As the opening bell rings on the bourses, the cynosure of all eyes today, would be the Power Grid counter. Swarm is a mild word to describe the kind of orders the stock would see today and the volumes in the opening trade are likely to set a record of sorts for the first day listing. My advice, hold on to your allotments and buy more.

Power Grid will also be admitted into the F&O segment with a market lot of 3850 shares. The Nifty MidCap Index will also enter the fray with a 75-unit market lot. The midcap Index will see interest but nothing as compared to Power Grid, which will have a electrifying start. Expect a lot of conversions from other power stocks into this one.

THE INDICATORAcross the Atlantic

U.S. stocks on Thursday finished with modest gains after lingering on either side of unchanged for much of the day, with investors reluctant to make big moves ahead of Friday's employment report, which could determine whether the Federal Reserve again cuts interest rates at the end of October

The Dow Jones Industrial Average rose 6.26 points, or 0.04%, to 13,974.31, and the S&P 500 added 3.25 points, or 0.21%, at 1542.84. The Nasdaq Composite was up 4.14 points, or 0.15%, at 2733.57.

Declines in transportation sector indices matched advances in utilities, which led to the weak advances of the major averages. The Nasdaq Transportation Index slid 0.6% and the Dow Jones Transportation Average slipped 0.2%. On the other hand, the Dow Jones Utilities Average rose 1% and the Philadelphia Utility Index added 0.9%.

Early on, traders were treated to another round of economic data. In one report, the Labor Department said initial jobless claims rose a greater-than-expected 16,000 to 317,000, above the consensus 310,000.

While the claims data won't affect Friday's nonfarm payrolls data for September, it is the last available information on the job market before the key report. The release is expected to show that the U.S. economy added 100,000 jobs last month after an abysmal August number, when 4,000 jobs were lost.

Many cite that weak nonfarm payrolls report as the reason the Federal Reserve cut its fed funds target rate by 50 basis points when it last met on Sept. 18. The September data should figure prominently when the Federal Open Market Committee next convenes for a two-day meeting on Oct. 30.

Also on the economic docket, the Census Bureau said factory orders slid 3.3% in August, after a 3.4% rise in July. Analysts were looking for a 2.8% decline.

Overseas, the European Central Bank left interest rates unchanged as it gathered in Vienna. Separately, the Bank of England came out with an announcement that it would not change key interest rates. The euro climbed against the dollar on the news.

Among analyst calls, Wachovia initiated coverage on several tech names. The firm gave an outperform rating to Intel , Nokia , Dell) and Hewlett-Packard .

Wachovia also started coverage of IBM , Sun Microsystems , Qualcomm , Motorola and Texas Instruments at market perform.

Commodities were stronger. Crude oil overcame early weakness and finished up $1.50 to $81.44 a barrel. Gold and silver finished the day with gains.
