Union Budget FY2010 Preview

FY2010 Union Budget: Strong on paper. We expect FY2010 Union Budget to deliver something for all, without a serious attampt to control rising costs. It is likely to push up social spending, increase subsidies and provide for infrastructure investment. The government may attempt to meet the likely higher spending through additional revenues (tax roll-backs and disinvestment). We expect budget to be temporarily positive for equity, bond and currency markets.

Headline fiscal numbers may be positive but follow-through action more relevant

We expect the government to adopt innovative steps in order to contain headline FY2010E GFD/GDP ratio to sub-6% levels. It may target taxation, disinvestment and auction of natural resources to raise revenues. However, we do not expect the budget to address medium-term fiscal consolidation needs. We also continue to see risks of fiscal slippage again later in the year, in case the government is not able to meet revenue targets; costs are a given.

Tax cuts roll-back, asset sales and licensing revenues to support inclusive growth

We calculate that the government can raise an additional Rs600 bn (1% of GDP) through partial roll-back of stimulus-related CENVAT and services tax cuts, disinvestment of public sector units and auction of 3G license. This would help support added social expenditures of about Rs350 bn and a larger subsidies bill, both in support more inclusive growth.

Key expectations and impact on market and sectors

Slower-than-expected progress and/or muted action on (1) deregulation of pricing in the energy sector, (2) infrastructure projects, (3) extension of tax exemptions and (4) divestment in government-owned companies may fail to meet the Street's current high expectations. A roll-back in excise duty may be a negative for automobile and consumer sectors.

Market is fully valued; hence, recommend defensive stance

We find little value in the market or in large-cap. stocks with the broad market (BSE-30 Index) trading at 16.3X FY2010E earnings (Rs907) and 13.6X FY2011E earnings (Rs1,087). We have not yet seen any concrete signs of earnings upgrades, which would make us take a more positive view of the market. On the other hand, (1) weak monsoons, (2) large unaddressed fiscal gap leading to likely increase in interest rates from 4QFY10E and (3) increasing commodity prices pose risks to earnings and sentiment.

Novelis reports steady earnings. Novelis reported EBITDA of US$252 mn and an adj. EBITDA of US$54 mn despite a sharp 20% yoy drop in volumes. The drop in qoq EBITDA is just from US$100 mn to US$72 mn qoq if further adjusted for non-cash exhange variations. Management has guided for strong earnings in the coming quarters due to restructing initiatives, increase in volumes in Asia etc. We maintain our BUY rating on Hindalco with TP of Rs135.

Steady earnings in a weak market

Volumes in 4QFY2009 were sharply lower by 20% compared to last year due to sharp demand contraction in the auto, construction and other markets. However, can volumes were stable and have largely contributed to the profitability during the quarter.

Strong EBITDA improvement guidance for 1QFY2010

Outlook for 1QFY2010 expected to improve significantly due to the following: 1) benefits from restructuring initiatives undertaken in 3QFY2009 and 4QFY2009 to start flowing through 2) non metal commodity price deflation 3) strong recovery in Asian shipments driven by China.

Segmental analysis - North American and Asian markets see growth

In North America flat product volumes have gone up in 4QFY2009 from 243KT to 246KT especially driven by the can volumes and seasonality effects. However, volumes for other businesses such as auto and construction were lower. In Asia, volumes were sharply impacted due to a weak demand and were among the most difficult quarters. EBITDA However going forward, volumes are expected to pick up sharply. South American business was very stable and is dominated by cans and is expected to remain steady. The fall in EBITDA is related to aluminium price drops. And lastly the European business saw increases in can markets but could not offset the declines in auto, construction and other markets.

Cash Neutral – Cash neutral for the last 9 months and minimal repayments

Liquidity has remained comfortable for the last 9 months and no major outflows expected. As of May 2009, the Company had liquidity of US$410 mn and is expected to improve significantly from the second half of FY2010. Capital expenditure has been lowered from US$202 mn to US$145 mn in FY2009. Going forward would incur only maintenance capex. Loan repayments restricted to US$59 mn FY2010.

Maintain BUY with target price of Rs135

We maintain our BUY rating on Hindalco with a target price of Rs135/share. We have left our earnings estimates unchanged and may review following consolidated results today.

Cost control measures improve margins. Havells reported better-than-expected 4QFY09 results with 400 bps qoq improvement in EBITDA margin. Cost control and restructuing measures initiated in previous quarters have started showing results. Management plans to continue this process over next year to further reduce costs. We raise our target price to Rs175 to factor in better margins and lower working capital; however, maintain REDUCE on concerns at Sylvania and cash flow constraints.

4QFY09—strong margins surprise positively

Havells' 4QFY09 adjusted PAT of Rs187 mn was much higher than our estimated adjusted loss of Rs95 mn. The positive surprise was due to higher-than-expected EBITDA margin of 6.3% (estimated 3.6%). Revenues at Rs13.3 bn were in line with our estimate of Rs13.6 bn. Key highlights of the results were:-

- ▶ Lower Sylvania revenues (Rs7.5 bn versus estimated Rs8.1 bn) were offset by higher switchgear revenues (Rs1.6 bn versus estimated Rs1.3 bn). Higher sales from switchgear segment which has a higher margin of 29% against Sylvania's negative margin of 0.3% pushed up the consolidated margins.
- ▶ Strong margins in cable and wires segment (9% versus expected 5.6%) led to higher consolidated margins.
- ▶ Restructuring and other extra-ordinary expenses of Rs1.2 bn resulted in reported net loss of Rs985 mn for 4QFY09.

Extra-ordinary costs become material for Havells

We highlight that extra-ordinary costs have become significantly material for Havells resulting in a reported net loss of Rs1.6 bn for FY2009. The total extra-ordinary expenses of Rs1.9 bn include Rs1 bn relating to restructuring and severance cost for shutdown of Sylvania plants. As per management, phase-II of the restructuring plan for the European facilities is to be executed over the next twelve months. Though exact cost involved for the same has not been disclosed, we estimate it to be around Rs1.5 bn. The company expects to achieve annual cost savings of €18 mn post the completion of the restructuring plan.

Havells India Others

Key concerns

▶ Revenue decline in Europe. As per the company, revenues from Europe in 4QFY09 were down almost 20% yoy due to weak demand scenario, in line with the industry trends. The slowdown in new housing construction in Europe has led to a sharp decline in demand for lighting fixtures from both residential and commercial users. We expect bleak demand scenario to continue for another 2-3 quarters before signs of demand reversal is seen. Management guides Sylvania's revenues at a quarterly runrate of around €120 mn for the next few quarters. Demand in Latin America has sustained post the sharp decline in 3QFY09 and is beginning to show moderate growth.

▶ Cash flow constraints. Our concern for Havells' cash flow position arises from its large cash requirements over the next two years and declining operating cash flows from Sylvania. Havells cash requirements in FY2010E arise from (1) debt repayment obligations (€6 mn), (2) capacity expansion (Rs1.4 bn) and (3) restructuring costs (Rs1.5 bn). The company is already in default of debt covenant terms at Sylvania and is under negotiation with its bankers for revised terms. Sylvania which contributes almost 55% of the consolidated revenues is currently working at very low margins of 2-3% making it an unviable operation since it does not even cover the interest cost.

Increase estimates for higher domestic revenues

We increase our EPS estimate for FY2010E and FY2011E to Rs12.2 and Rs19 from Rs10.3 and Rs14.7, respectively. The increase in estimate is mainly on account of higher revenues from switchgear and cable and wires segment replacing the decline in Sylvania revenues. The domestic switchgear and cables and wires demand has started to show signs of demand revival with increase in volumes over the last 2-3 months.

Raise target price to Rs175 but maintain REDUCE as concerns not resolved yet

We increase our DCF-based target price to Rs175 (from Rs120) to factor in (1) lower working capital investment, (2) increase in EBITDA margin estimates from the domestic segments and (3) roll over to FY2011E. We maintain our REDUCE rating due to concerns on (1) Sylvania's revenue decline, (2) cash flow constraints necessitating alternate funding sources and (3) pending settlement of debt covenant terms. We find current valuations at 22X FY2010E EPS expensive considering the above mentioned risks.

Unitech (UT)

Property

QIP positive for Unitech, retain SELL on expensive valuations. Unitech raised Rs27.9 bn through a QIP issue of 344.4 mn shares at Rs81/share. We view this as a positive development for Unitech as it significantly deleverages its balance sheet by reducing D/E to <0.5X. However, the current stock price is currently implying sales of 25 mn sq. ft/year which is quite large in our view since the peak volumes for Unitech has been ~10 mn sq. ft/ year. Incorporating issuance, our target price is revised to Rs60.

Funding concerns recede post QIP; dilution of 16.8%

While funding concerns on Unitech are expected to ease post QIP of Rs27.9 bn at Rs81/share and liquidity being available more easily, focus will likely shift to sustainable operational performance. Unitech has now raised a total of Rs44.1 bn in 1QFY10 through two QIP issuances, which will likely bring the gross debt to sub Rs50 bn levels or D/E of <0.5X. This QIP issue leads to a dilution of 16.8% and the promoters' stake falls to 43.8% from 51.2%. Additionally, the promoters have been allotted 227.5 mn warrants at Rs50.75/share. We summarize the impact of QIP as below (Exhibit 1).

- ▶ On account of interest savings due to reduction in debt, our PAT for FY2010E and FY2011E increase by 14.4% and 21% respectively. Our EPS for FY2010E goes up from Rs4.4 to Rs4.5 and for FY2011E goes up from Rs4.4 to Rs4.6.
- ▶ However, QIP is RoE dilutive because book value/share goes up from Rs36 to Rs43.0 in FY2010E and from Rs40.4 to Rs47.6 in FY2011E. Our FY2010E RoAE reduces to 13.5% (14.6% earlier) and FY2011E RoAE reduces to 10.1% (11.5% earlier).
- ▶ NAV increases from Rs55/share to Rs60/share.

Focus to shift to valuations and execution; stock looks expensive

The current market price of Rs82 implies sales volumes of 25+ mn sq. ft/year at an average selling price of Rs2,750/sq. ft (exhibit 2). We find Unitech expensive on all parameters.

- ▶ NAV. Unitech is quoting at 42% premium to March'11 based NAV of Rs60/share.
- ▶ P/B. Despite RoEs in the region of 10% (exhibit 3), Unitech is quoting at 1.9X FY2010E book value of Rs43.
- ▶ P/E. Unitech is quoting at FY2010E P/E of 19X and FY2011E P/E of 19X.

Retain SELL and revise target price to Rs60/share; retain revenue, volume estimates

We retain a SELL rating on Unitech with a revised target price of Rs60 (earlier Rs55) which is based on par with our March'11 based NAV of Rs60 (earlier Rs55). We are valuing 295 mn sq. ft of Unitech's land bank compared to Unitech's disclosure of 7,467 acres under possession (exhibit 4, 5). We retain our volume, revenue and EBITDA estimates.

We build in strong sales volumes for FY2010-12E

On the operational front, Unitech has launched 13.9 mn sq. ft and sold 3.2 mn sq. ft in the past three months. We already build in a pick up in volumes and assume sale of 11.2 mn sq. ft in FY2010E and 14.9 mn sq. ft in FY2011E. However, as shown in Exhibit 3, the stock is currently factoring sale volumes of 25 mn sq. ft. Unitech is currently executing 45.7 mn sq. ft of real estate projects as of May 2009 (exhibit 6). Around 50% of these projects are due for completion in CY2009 and hence are at an advanced stage of completion. Analyzing projects launched in FYTD, around 50% of new launches comprises plotted development.
