Market Outlook

- The Indian market is likely to open flat on flat global, Asian cues. The BSE Sensex was little changed on Thursday in choppy trading as investors awaited direction from quarterly earnings amid doubts about the prospects of a swift world recovery and the outlook for fund flows. The benchmark has lost 7.7% this week after the Budget on Monday disappointed investors. However, it is up 42.6% this year after rallying for 16 of the last 17 weeks. The Sensex has supports at 13640 and 13520 and resistances at 13880 and 13990. The Nifty has supports at 4060 and 4010 and resistances at 4120 and 4150
- US stocks edged higher on Thursday as investors bought beaten-down technology and commodity shares, while a positive broker comment on Goldman Sachs boosted the financial sector. Trading was choppy in light volumes for most of the day as investors remained cautious ahead of more corporate earnings reports in the coming weeks. The Dow Jones Industrial Average gained 4.76 points, or 0.06%, to 8,183.17. The S&P 500 Index added 3.12 points, or 0.35%, to 882.68. The Nasdaq Composite Index rose 5.38 points, or 0.31%, to 1,752.55

Technical Outlook

Jul 08, 2009

Sensex: We said, "Belt Hold Line Bear candle can see some supportive effort on the next day. We will watch for that." The Sensex indeed came in for some support, and moved 111 points higher initially. Turning volatile later, it ended flat. While most sectors also closed flat, the Metal Index gained 1.5%. The A/D ratio ended flat in tune.

The action formed a Doji, a potential short-term turning point exactly at the lower end of the Red channel shown. We would see its upward potential if the Index sustains above its head at 13879. Failure to do that would, however, continue the weakness coming as a result of the break of the Neckline of H&S formation.

Initiating Coverage

Neyveli Lignite (NEYLIG)

Changing fortunes...

Neyveli Lignite (NLC), a Mini Ratna government enterprise, is an integrated thermal power generator with a fuel base of lignite. It operates a 2,490 MW generation capacity split into three plants (viz TPS-I, TPS-II and TPS-I Exp) and has a captive mining capacity of 24 MTPA. Capacity addition (expected at 4,440 MW), new CERC norms and a possible tariff renegotiation with Tamil Nadu Electricity Board for its TPS-I (600 MW) will be key drivers for earnings. Consequently, with a slew of positives in the offing, we are initiating coverage with an OUTPERFORMER rating.

- Expanded generation capacity to provide revenue upside in Q1FY10

We expect the overall generation to deliver ~25% growth YoY in Q1FY10E. Operations have normalised after roadblocks observed in Q1FY09 due to the strikes witnessed at the plants. We expect the company to achieve a production of 4,938 million units (MU) as compared to 3,937 MU in the corresponding quarter last year.

- New CERC tariff policy should offer significant upsides

New CERC regulations (2009-14) should boost the PAT by Rs 229 crore and the EPS by Rs 1.4 per share. We expect a major improvement in earnings from incremental RoE of 1.5%, retention of tax benefits, relaxed station heat rate and ease in operational and maintenance expenses (relaxed by ~60%) under normative clauses.

- Renegotiations of tariff for TPS-I (600 MW) to boost bottomline

NLC is renegotiating the PPA with Tamil Nadu Electricity Board (TNEB) for its 600 MW TPS-I plant that is nearing the end of its operating life. We expect the new realisation per unit to be around Rs 3 per unit against the current Rs 1.8 per unit. Tariff renegotiation should contribute to an incremental PAT of Rs 270 crore annually. This will raise the EPS by Rs 1.6 per annum for the next three years.

- Valuations

At the CMP of Rs 118, the stock is trading at an EV/EBITDA of 9.1x FY10E and 7.2x FY11E EBITDA, respectively. We expect the new CERC policy and renegotiation of PPA with TNEB to enhance the financial performance. Thus, we are initiating coverage on NLC with an OUTPERFORMER rating and a price target of Rs 155.

Oil prices rose slightly on Thursday as talk of refinery shutdowns spurred stirred gasoline supply concerns, ending a six-day slide.

Spot gold traded at $915.80 an ounce at 2:25 PM EDT, against $908.45 an ounce late on Wednesday, when gold sold off in line with other commodities on fears of stricter US government regulation of markets.

Copper prices rallied sharply on Thursday, driven by a sharply weaker dollar and bullish comments from the International Monetary Fund that the global economy was slowly starting to emerge from the worst recession since World War II.
