Focus on diversified revenue growth

Having met with management today at our 15th Annual India Investor Conference in New Delhi, these are some of our takeaways...

Robust demand environment

Management reiterated that demand environment remains strong in verticals such as banking & finance, retail & manufacturing. Offshoring gaining traction in most key geographies. Infy has also expanded target client base and now taps in to global 2000 clients as compared to Fortune 1000 earlier. It has a vision of achieving a revenue target of over USD15bn by 2015 (implies over 25pc CAGR). It is focusing on improving both revenue/person through mix and non linearity and revenue/client.

Focus on non linearity

Management reiterated its goal to improve share of non linear revenues from current 10% to over 30% over the medium term, driven by higher product revenues such as finacle (Banking product) & FLypp (mobile platform) and investments in platform based BPO. Management highlighted that revenue productivity at its recent acquisition (Mccamish- insurance platform) stood at USD110,000 vs company average of USD84,000.

Strong focus on geographical expansion

Infosys continues to invest in new geographies such as China, Latin America, Europe and emerging markets. Reiterated long term goal of reducing concentration in US markets from ~60% to 40% over next few years. Likely to focus on M&A to enhance presence in Europe & Japan.

Likely to maintain margins at current levels

Management highlighted that barring currency volatility EBIT margins could be sustained at current levels (our estmd FY11 margin is 29.6pc) by managing employee pyramid, improving productivity, increasing share of non linear revs and moving up the value chain. It intends to maintain balance between growth and margins.

Price objective basis & risk

Infosys Tech (INFYF / INFY)

Our Price Objective of Rs4,000 (US$87 for ADR, at parity) is based on a target FY12 EV/EBITDA to 2yr EBITDA growth of 0.85x, in-line with its 5yr avg multiple. This implies a FY13e P/E of approximately 22x, broadly in line with current 1yr forward (FY12e) PE. Downside risks to estimates stem from macro led delays in IT spend or sharp appreciation of the Rupee.
