CHAMPAGNE INDAGE (CIL) (Rs.269, FY07 PE: 17.8x, BUY)

Champagne Indage has reported quite impressive fourth quarter results, which are in line with our expectations. The stock has corrected significantly since our recommendation and at the current price, valuations look highly appealing given the company's growth potential. We reiterate our BUY with a price target of Rs. 472.

Highlights

Strong revenue momentum: Revenues for the quarter grew by 79% YoY to Rs. 257 mn. For the full year FY06, revenues grew by 90% to Rs. 686 mn. The company is expanding its capacity to cater to the robust industry growth. CIL's installed capacity is slated to rise 60% from 5 mn liters per annum currently to 8 mn liters per annum by end of FY07.

Margins have been maintained: Margins for the quarter remained stable at 30%. The change in stocks figure indicates substantial inventory at the end of the year. Since mature wines command a premium to normal wines, hence the company keeps aside some portion of its production to mature. Inventory is almost equal to annual sales.

Depreciation has increased as the company during the year expanded its winemaking capacity to 5 mn liters.

Robust earnings growth continues: CIL reported 91% increase in net profits in Q4 despite a substantial increase in tax payouts. Going ahead, we are projecting a 50% CAGR in earnings growth over FY06-08.

Valuation

Champagne Indage is the market leader and the largest producer of wines in Asia. It has more than 35 principal brands under its umbrella and a market share of over 70% in India. The company has a presence in all three segments of wines, namely, still wine, sparkling wine and fortified wine. The industry has experienced a growth of over 30% for the past few years. We expect Champagne Indage's revenues to grow at a CAGR of 71% over FY05-08.

Its net profits are expected to grow by 50% CAGR over FY06-08. We recommend a BUY on the stock with a target price of Rs. 472, implying an upside of 75% from the current price. We have arrived at the fair value by assigning the lower end of the one-year forward rolling P/E of 20x to FY08 earnings.
