Index view

The markets on 13 Feb: Humongous volatility with round trip to 14000/4000 levels.

LOOKING AHEAD: The market has broken an important support level of 14000/4000. Even after the Sensex spectacularly recovered by 350 points it failed to hold on at higher levels.

The market broke an intermediate support twice during Tuesday. This tells us that the market may not hold on to the major level of 14000/4000 in the coming days. As a rule, it may not be advisable to search for any support below an intermediate support. The market will decide its own level to arrest the fall.

Keep on reducing weak long positions at each resistance level.
