VIEW POINT: MARKETS ADRIFT

The markets are likely to be in a wait and watch mode ahead of the Fed decision on Interest rates this evening. If for any reason the Fed does not cut rates by 0.25% as expected, we could see a correction setting in the global markets and India may not be really immune from that. From that perspective, it may be worthwhile not getting lured by the intra-day rallies and keep the powder dry for some more confident time.

Back home in India, the concern is the RBI's take on the real estate exposure of some of the banks. Dealing room chatter also suggests that the regulators may think of putting curbs on the inflows in the reality sector. Tuesday's charts do not suggest any such move but if the sector does show some weakness it may be prudent to prune exposure to the sector. Support exists at 19621, which is 162 points lower than Tuesday's close. A move beyond that could take the Sensex into a chasm, which is 345 points deep at 19276. This gap could also act as a good support.

THE INDICATORACROSS THE ATLANTIC

Stocks declined Tuesday, with Apple Inc.'s sales offering a late lift to technology stocks amid ongoing speculation about the Federal Reserve's next interest-rate move, and on Procter & Gamble's warning that rising commodity prices would dent profit.

The Dow Jones Industrial Average lost 77.79 points, or 0.56%, to 13,792.47, pulled down by a 4% drop in component Procter & Gamble. The S&P 500 was off 9.96 points, or 0.65%, at 1531.02.

The Nasdaq Composite closed little changed, falling 0.73 point, or 0.03%, to 2816.71. The index was propped up by a 16.1% jump in Sepracor.

While traders were certainly thinking about the Fed and the latest quarterly numbers from corporate America, the news of the day came from Merrill Lynch, which said embattled CEO Stan O'Neal has decided to leave the firm, effective immediately.

Rumors of O'Neal's departure pushed the stock 10.7% higher over the previous two sessions, but shares of Merrill lost $1.86, or 2.8%, to $65.56 once the formal announcement came out.

Elsewhere, the Federal Open Market Committee began its two-day meeting, with a decision about rates due at 2:15 p.m. EDT on Wednesday. Most economists are expecting a 25-basis-point cut, the second reduction in as many months after the Fed kept its fed funds target rate at 5.25% for nine straight meetings dating back to June 2006.

On the economic front, the Conference Board said its consumer confidence index fell to a reading of 95.6 in October from 99.5 last month, worse than expectations for a reading of 99.0.

As for earnings, UBS said that third-quarter income fell 41% from a year ago, as the Swiss financial services firm had to deal with writedowns due to the subprime mortgage mess over the summer.

UBS also warned it may have to take further writedowns in the fourth quarter because of its ongoing exposure to the U.S. mortgage markets. Shares were off 14 cents, or 0.3%, to $53.11.

Back in the U.S., Procter & Gamble posted fiscal first-quarter results that topped the Thomson First Call average estimate by a penny. P&G fell, though, after saying it expects fiscal second-quarter earnings per share of 95 cents to 97 cents, compared with Wall Street's expectation of 97 cents.

Shares of the Dow component shed $2.88 to $68.95.

U.S. Steel

said third-quarter earnings fell 35% from a year ago, resulting in an earnings miss. U.S. Steel tumbled 7% to $104.62 The U.S. steel producer reported a drop in third-quarter profit and forecast a further earnings retreat in the December period

Elsewhere, Colgate-Palmolive posted a third-quarter profit that rose 22% from the year-ago period, exceeding the analyst target by a penny. Colgate shares closed higher by $1, or 1.4%, to $75.26.

THE INDICATOR

Away from equities, crude prices retreated after setting new records on Monday. The December crude contract closed above $93 a barrel for the first time during the prior session, but dropped $3.15 to close at $90.38 this time.

In its fastest monthly decline in its seven-year history, the latest Case-Shiller price index found home prices in 20 major cities dropped 4.4% in the 12 months through August
