For 1QCY2012, Nestle India's (Nestle) top line grew by 13.1\% yoy while bottom line grew by $7.8 \%$ yoy, about $4.4 \%$ below our estimates. Operating margin for the quarter increased by 104 bps due to higher realizations. Rupee depreciation favorably impacted export growth by $6.3 \%$. We maintain our Neutral view on the stock.

Key highlights during the quarter: Top-line growth during the quarter was driven by higher realizations on domestic sales but volume growth was muted. The company's export sales growth stood at $3.3 \%$ yoy, whereas domestic sales growth stood at 13.7\% yoy. Nestle's operating profit margin increased by 104 bps on account of cost rationalization. Earnings grew by modest $\sim 7.8 \%$, Outlook and valuation: At the CMP, Nestle is trading at $\sim 178 \%$ premium to the Sensex, significantly ahead of its five-year average historical premium of $\sim 91 \%$. We render caution on the company's high premium to the Sensex on account of 1) Modest Volume Growth and 2) competition in the high-growth noodles category from HUL (Knorr soupy noodles), GSKCHL (Horlicks Foodles) and ITC (Sunfeast Yipee). Hence, we continue to maintain our Neutral view on the stock.

Double digit top line growth aided by higher realization...

Nestle registered a top line growth of $13.1 \%$ on account of higher realizations on domestic Sales. However, the sales has been adversely impacted by product portfolio and channel optimizations. Exports registered $3.3 \%$ yoy growth to ₹ 101 cr .

Exhibit 2: Top line growth

Margins boosted by higher realizations

OPM for the quarter increased by 104bp yoy as higher realization and product portfolio /channel mix offset the increase in input costs. Also, increase in headcount to support expanding business has resulted in higher employee costs.

The company's profit growth was impacted by its Pantnagar plant's 100\% income tax holiday reducing to $30 \%$ as it completed five years of operation. The company's profits (on a reported basis) registered only $7.8 \%$ yoy growth to ₹ 276 cr .

Investment Concerns

- Best play on emerging growth opportunity in the foods and beverages space: Nestle enioys a strong position across categories in the foods and beverage space through its diversified porffolio of established brands such as Maggi, Nescafe, Everyday, Kit Kat and Milkmaid. We are particularly bullish on underpenetrated categories such as instant noodles, value-added dairy products, chocolates and confectionery, which are witnessing an uptrend in consumer demand.
- However, valuations at $178 \%$ premium to the Sensex capture full potential: At the CMP, Nestle is trading at $\sim 178 \%$ premium to the Sensex, significantly ahead of its five-year average historical premium of $\sim 91 \%$. While Nestle has been able to maintain these premium valuations because of its strong parentage, dominant brands, high RoE and OPM, we believe current valuations capture the full potential of near-term growth. We remain cautious in terms of Nestlé being able to maintain this triple-digit premium to the Sensex on account of muted volume growth and competition in the highgrowth noodles category from HUL, GSKCHL and ITC.

Outlook and valuation

At the CMP, Nestle is trading at $\sim 178 \%$ premium to the Sensex, significantly ahead of its five-year average historical premium of $\sim 91 \%$. We render caution on Nestle's high premium to the Sensex on account of 1) Modest Volume Growth and 2) competition in the high-growth noodles category from HUL, GSKCHL and ITC. Hence, we continue to maintain our Neutral view on the stock.
