

In mid-July we lost Simon Elton, a great Kiwi bluesman

- Simon played bass guitar with 'B-Side Band' and 'Play Misty' and was a very good friend to many musos across the Bay of Plenty and Waikato for decades.
- Simon's daughter, Justine wrote: "Thank you everyone who has reached out this week, met with me and called me. I appreciate it greatly."
- On 24 July, Kokomo dedicated their Te Puna concert to Simon and his friends. His band B-Side Band and Play Misty, his friends Richard O'Brien (Rocky Horror show), Maurice Greer (Human Instinct), and other musical greats also took part.
- HBS NZ members shared in the celebration of Simon's life.
- A Remembrance will be held for Simon when his son arrives from Australia. HBS NZ committee will advise details.
