

Deployment architecture for Hippo CMS Community Edition to allow immediate publication to production web site.

The Site server(s) are deployed outside of the DMZ. The CMS server(s) are deployed within the DMZ.

The database is shared between them since there is no replication plugin available for the non enterprise version.

This deployment scenario allows instantaneous publishing to production sites from staged documents in the CMS servers.

