
Admissions Guide for International Students for 2013 Spring Semester

1. About the Graduate School of Korean Studies

The Graduate School of Korean Studies ("GSKS") aims at nurturing scholars who will contribute to the development and globalization of Korean studies. Since its establishment in 1980 as Korea's first professional school dedicated exclusively to Korean studies, the GSKS has provided intensive research-oriented education through eminent professors' close mentoring of students in the fields of humanities and social sciences related to Korea. As a result, not only the GSKS has gained a worldwide reputation for its high standard and quality education, but also graduates of the GSKS are playing pivotal role in widening and deepening Korean studies all over the world with their academic excellence. Currently, approximately 270 students, including about 130 international students from 35 different countries, are enrolled in the master's and doctoral degree programs and research (non-degree) program at the GSKS.

2. Key Attributes

- Tuition fees are fully waived for international students.
- The Government Grant of KRW750,000 per month per person is provided for selected students.
- Free Korean Language courses are provided to train international students to be more competent at and confident in reading/writing/listening/speaking Korean and eventually help them achieve their academic goals.
- On-campus dormitory accommodations are available at the rate of KRW463,500 per person per semester (equivalent to 6 months), double occupancy.

- Most courses are attended by both Korean and international students, encouraging culturally and academically challenging atmospheres.
- A 4:1 student-faculty ratio enables close one-to-one guidance of students by professors.
- Various kinds of courses are available including major courses, interdisciplinary courses, fieldwork and individualized courses with a student's own topic and research plans.
- Students may earn credits by publishing articles in accredited academic journals or participating in AKS' research projects.

3. Program Overview

- Minimum requirement of enrollment: Students must enroll in the program for 2 years in order to be conferred a master's degree, and 3 years for a doctoral degree.
- An academic year consists of two semesters, which are Spring Semester (from March 1 to August 31) and Fall Semester (from September 1 to the end of February the following year).
- Courses are provided for 15 weeks per semester.

11. Research (Non-Degree) Program

The Research (Non-degree) Program is designed for those who already have a bachelor's or higher degree and wish to complement their studies by attending the GSKS for maximum one year. Admission procedure and required documents for application are same as those for degree programs. Those admitted to the program must pay tuition fees and enroll in at least one course per semester, to which no credit is given. An academic advisor is assigned to a student, and the Certificate of Enrollment/Completion can be issued. Students are given access to the same facilities as degree students, but ineligible for financial aid and scholarships.

12. Students Responsibilities to Develop Korean Language Skills

- International students are required to develop their Korean language proficiency in order to further enhance their research in the field of Korean studies.
- Once admitted, international students must take a Korean Language Proficiency Test held by the GSKS. Based on the test result, each international student will be assigned to a Korean language course and they must complete one. Korean language courses are noncredit and graded pass/fail.
- In principle, all the courses are taught in Korean except those for the Korean Culture and History major which are taught in English.
- In order to be qualified for submission of dissertation, international students must receive over 70 out of 100 in the Korean Language Proficiency Test hosted by the GSKS. Those who obtain S-TOPIK level 6 (or level 4 for the students who major in Korean Culture and History) are exempt from the Korean Language Proficiency Test.
