

Modern Endangered Archives Program

Funding now available. Applications due Nov 15, 2021.

MEAP is a UCLA Library granting program dedicated to preserving at-risk cultural heritage from around the world.

We fund projects that document, digitize, and make accessible endangered archival materials from the 20th and 21st Centuries. Collections may include print, photography, film, audio, ephemera, and digital objects.

Join us in the essential work of ensuring access to cultural heritage and communal memory. Details: meap.library.ucla.edu.
