Palate Press: The Best of the Press, Volume I: the Online Wine Magazine, David Honig, Palate Press LLC , 2010, 0983178917, 9780983178910. Palate Press: The online wine magazine launched in September, 2009. Since then more than 100 different writers from around the world, including Dan Berger, W. R. Tish, Mary Ewing-Mulligan, and W. Blake Gray, have contributed more than 800 stories on everything wine, from simple reviews to complex discussions of the science of wine. In Palate Press: The online wine magazine, A year of feature stories from Palate Press, we collect the most loved stories from our first year for wine lovers everywhere. Favorite stories include Points, Counter-Points, by R my Charest and W. Blake Gray - two Palate Press editors put their debate, and the ongoing debate about wine rating systems, in the open for you to enjoy. Wine science is a real strength for Palate Press, highlighting writers able to make the science in the bottle accessible without ever talking down to the reader. Arthur Przebinda, M.D.'s What Wine Goes With Red Herring? explains the science behind food pairings and identifies which ones really make sense and why. In Not Tonight, I Have a Wine Headache Tom Mansell, a Ph.D. candidate in Chemistry explores the myths and facts behind the infamous "red wine headache." Palate Press has enjoyed great critical acclaim in its first year. Be sure to read two of our most loved stories, R my Charest's Natural Wine: On a Practical Note, described by Eric Asimov, of the New York Times, as "a wise and sensible look at natural wine," and A Trip to the Rhone, by Meg Houston Maker. Howard Goldberg, of the New York Times, described it as "an ambling armchair read that gracefully takes them through lovely landscapes and enviable meals. These great stories and more, including On Corkscrews, Blondes, and Vending Machines, Inside the CIA,

The Upside of Doon, Smells of Wine and Roses, Kiss the Cook, An American Doughboy in France, The Sensual Side of Pinot Noir, Vanity Winemaking: Cranking Cahors to Eleven, A Long Walk Through the Wines of Spain, and It's All in the Glass are all to be found in The Best of the Press, Volume I.

Brenner's Encyclopedia of Genetics, Volume 1, Stanley Maloy, Kelly Hughes , 2013, 0123749840, 9780123749840. The explosion of the field of genetics over the last decade, with the new technologies that have stimulated research, suggests that a new sort of reference work is needed to keep pace with such a fast-moving and interdisciplinary field. Brenner's Encyclopedia of Genetics, 2nd edition, builds on the foundation of the first edition by addressing many of the key subfields of genetics that were just in their infancy when the first edition was published. The currency and accessibility of this foundational content will be unrivalled, making this work useful for scientists and non-scientists alike. Featuring relatively short entries on genetics topics written by experts in that topic, Brenner's Encyclopedia of Genetics provides an effective way to quickly learn about any aspect of genetics, from Abortive Transduction to Zygotes. Adding to its utility, the work provides short entries that briefly define key terms, and a guide to additional reading and relevant websites for further study. Many of the entries include figures to explain difficult concepts. Key terms in related areas such as biochemistry, cell, and molecular biology are also included, and there are entries that describe historical figures in genetics, providing insights into their careers and discoveries. This 7-volume set represents a 25% expansion from the first edition, with over 1600 articles encompassing this burgeoning field. Thoroughly up-to-date, with many new topics and subfields covered that were in their infancy or not in existence at the time of the first edition. Timely coverage of emergent areas such as epigenetics, personalized genomic medicine, pharmacogenetics, and genetic enhancement technologies. Interdisciplinary and global in its outlook, as befits the field of genetics. Brief articles, written by experts in the field, which not only discuss, define, and explain key elements of the field, but also provide definition of key terms, suggestions for further reading, and biographical sketches of the key people in the history of genetics.

Electronic and Computer Music, Peter Manning Professor of Music University of Durham , 2004, 0195349296, 9780195349290. In this revised and expanded third edition of the classic text on the history and evolution of electronic and computer music, Peter Manning provides the definitive account of the medium from its birth to the present day. After explaining the antecedents of electronic music from the turn of the century to the Second World War, Manning discusses the emergence of early "classical" studios of the 1950s. He goes on to chronicle the upsurge of creative activity during the 1960s and 70s in the analog domain, as well as with live electronic music and the early use of electronics in rock and pop music. This edition contains new information about software innovations, digital media and the essential features of digital and audio control, the MIDI synthesizer and its many derivatives, and the evolution of computer workstations and multimedia personal computers. Manning offers a critical perspective of the medium both in terms of its musical output and the philosophical and technical features that have shaped its growth. Emphasizing the functional characteristics of emerging technologies and their influence on the creative development of the medium, Manning covers key developments in both commercial and the non-commercial sectors to provide readers with the most comprehensive resource available on this ever-evolving subject.

Perspectives from the fields of zoology, biological anthropology, social anthropology, and sociology frame the discussion in this fascinating new study of mating and marriage. Both animals and humans engage in mating; however, only humans marry each other. Is marriage an outgrowth at the cultural level of the kinds of mating habits observed in animals, or is it inherently different? This thoughtful volume presents stimulating, new interdisciplinary approaches to this study, indicates the main problems, and explores promising possibilities for a synthesis.

Silver Clouds, Dark Linings: A Concise Guide to Cloud Computing, Archie Reed, Stephen G. Bennett , 2010, 0132599643, 9780132599641. The Executives Strategic Guide to Driving Maximum Business Value from Cloud Services Cloud services represent a fundamental shift in how individuals, enterprises, and governments conduct business, interact, and use technology. If used effectively, they can increase business agility and focus, simplify capacity planning, and strengthen cost control. Unsurprisingly, however, the cloud also presents risks. In this concise, executive level book, leading experts Archie Reed and Stephen G. Bennett share the insights and guidance decision-makers need to drive maximum value from cloud services--and avoid the pitfalls. The authors explain what cloud computing is, how it works, who provides cloud services, and how companies are using them. Next, they walk through the entire cloud lifecycle, offering expert guidance on planning, governance, compliance, security, operations, administration, management, and more. You'll learn how to:

- Assess the opportunities, benefits, and risks of cloud services in your environment
- Use the cloud to improve processes, accelerate system/product delivery, or create entirely new products and businesses
- Approach the cloud strategically (and learn why you should)
- Understand cloud infrastructure, operations, and standards from the decision-makers point of view
- Build on existing solution architecture, design practices, and SOA investments
- Ensure appropriate control, monitoring, compliance, and security
- Use IT process standardization to simplify cloud services management
- Define a flexible roadmap that enables multiple projects to move forward in parallel, and can change as the marketplace evolves

Act One: Girl Leaves Boy Lindsay West may have the face of a Hollywood starlet, but the demanding life of a teen celebrity never suited her. So nearly twenty years ago, she left her hit TV show and returned to her hometown of Belle Coeur, Missouri. Now Lindsay takes a role in a new play at a regional theater, unaware that she'll be sharing the stage with her former cast mate, one-time heartthrob Noah Patrick. Act Two: Boy Tries to Win Back Girl Noah Patrick took the gig at the Belle Coeur Theater hoping it would help revive his stalled career but it was his heart that got the jumpstart. Playing opposite the beautiful and enigmatic Lindsay, he begins to understand that fame is fickle and fortune is fleeting but true love lasts. Growing up together on the set of the show that made them both stars, Noah didn't give Lindsay much thought. But now she has grown into someone impossible to forget. Act Three: Anyones Guess Fighting off man-eating bears, Lindsays quirky family, and a pretty serious case of pneumonia, Noah will do whatever it takes to prove that this former bad boy has turned into a man Lindsay can love . . . before the curtain falls! The Origins of Order: Self Organization and Selection in Evolution, , Stuart A. Kauffman , 1993, 0195058119, 9780195058116. Stuart Kauffman here presents a brilliant new paradigm for evolutionary biology, one that extends the basic concepts of Darwinian evolution to accommodate recent findings and perspectives from the fields of biology, physics, chemistry and mathematics. The book drives to the heart of the exciting debate on the origins of life and maintenance of order in complex biological systems. It focuses on the concept of self-organization: the spontaneous emergence of order widely observed throughout nature. Kauffman here argues that self-organization plays an important role in the emergence of life itself and may play as fundamental a role in shaping life's subsequent evolution as does the Darwinian process of natural selection. Yet until now no systematic effort has been made to incorporate the concept of self-organization into evolutionary theory. The construction requirements which permit complex systems to adapt remain poorly understood, as is the extent to which selection itself can yield systems able to adapt more successfully. This book explores these themes. It shows how complex systems, contrary to expectations, can spontaneously exhibit stunning degrees of order, and how this order, in turn, is essential for understanding the emergence and development of life on Earth. Topics include the new biotechnology of applied molecular evolution, with its important implications for developing new drugs and vaccines; the balance between order and chaos observed in many naturally occurring systems; new insights concerning the predictive power of statistical mechanics in biology; and other major issues. Indeed, the approaches investigated here may prove to be the new center around which biological science itself will evolve. The work is written for all those interested in the cutting edge of research in the life sciences.

9780198555124. What use is physical chemistry to the student of biochemistry and biology? This central question is answered in this book mainly through the use of worked examples and problems. The text is brief and concise. It starts by introducing the laws of thermodynamics, and then uses these laws to derive the equations relevant to the student in dealing with chemical equilibria (including the binding of small molecules to proteins), properties of solutions, acids and bases, and oxidation-reduction processes. The student is thus shown how a knowledge of thermodynamic qualities makes it possible to predict whether, and how, a reaction will proceed. Thermodynamics, however, gives no information about how fast a reaction will happen. The study of the rates at which processes occur (kinetics) forms the second main theme of the book. This section poses and answers questions such as `how is the rate of a reaction affected by temperature, pH, ionic strength, and the nature of the reactants? These same ideas are then shown to be useful in the study of enzyme-catalysed reactions. Sections new to the second edition deal with co-operative binding of ligands, ultracentrifugation, oxidative phosphorylation, and two-substrate enzyme kinetics, and have been designed to cater for the requirements of a wide variety of biochemistry courses. This reprint of the second edition includes a thermodynamically more rigorous account of acid/base chemistry. The text should continue to appeal to all students interested in biology and biochemistry.

THE INDEPENDENT ADOPTION MANUAL, a 400-page, reader-friendly, how-to book, is the most comprehensive, up-to-date book on independent adoption. This book demonstrates how a couple can adopt an infant in about one year without spending a fortune. The book covers the following topics: choosing an adoption attorney, the legal process, the home study process (including sample home studies), identified agency adoptions, finding a birth mother, & dealing with birth families. This book also covers medical issues including dealing with obstetricians & hospital personnel. Also extensively covered is prenatal exposure to drugs & alcohol & ways a couple can decide if they should go through with an adoption when health risks/problems are involved. Nearly every adoption professional will find the extensive resource lists a great benefit. The references include 700 newspapers that accept adoption ads, plus 3,000 newspapers that are part of statewide networks that run adoption ads; 200 adoption attorneys; & the names, addresses, & telephone numbers for each state's Adoption Specialist, Bar Association & Interstate Compact Personnel. Each state's adoption laws are outlined in a question & answer format. To order call The AdvocatePress at (908) 363-7600 or write to First State Bank Building, 555 Madison Ave., Lakewood, NJ 08701.

Save the First Dance for You: The Complete Nurse's Guide to Serving Your Profession, Your Patients, and Yourself, Doris Young , 2006, 0977879003, 9780977879007. Using a dance instruction metaphor, the book presents a 10-step program to reconcile the tensions between a nurse's calling to help and please others sometimes at expense of their own health and happiness. This book is not on how to change the system, but individuals. Young's central premise is that nurses often put other people's needs first and their own needs last, and that can cause the nurse to wear out physically and emotionally. Chapters in the book cover such topics as: preventing burnout by taking care of yourself first; learning to be firm about your values and principles yet flexible about how to deal with people and situations; viewing all situations as opportunities for growth; setting goals and taking action; knowing the roles of being a leader and a follower; learning about yourself through relationships; how beliefs act as filters that create our experience; freeing oneself to have fun; being authentic; and "strutting your stuff." While primarily written for the nursing profession, other industries can benefit from Young's approach.

This second edition of Mathematical Models of Financial Derivatives, now featuring new material, focuses on the valuation principles that are common to most derivative securities. A wide range of financial derivatives commonly traded in the equity and fixed income markets are analysed, emphasising aspects of pricing, hedging and practical usage. It presents a self-contained treatment of risk-neutral valuation theory, martingale measure, and tools in stochastic calculus required for the understanding of option pricing theory. Derivative pricing models are solved using various approaches, by martingale pricing theory and partial differential equation methods. This text is targeted to students in mathematical finance. It also serves as a good reference for quantitative analysts and derivative traders in investment banks. The most recent research results and methodologies are made accessible to the reader through the extensive set of exercises at the end of each chapter.

Rue Ordener, Rue Labat, Sarah Kofman , 1996, 0803277806, 9780803277809. Rue Ordener, Rue Labat is a moving memoir by the distinguished French philosopher Sarah Kofman. It opens with the horrifying moment in July 1942 when the author's father, the rabbi of a small synagogue, was dragged by police from the family home on Rue Ordener in Paris, then transported to Auschwitz-"the place, " writes Kofman, "where no eternal rest would or could ever be granted." It ends in the mid-1950s, when Kofman enrolled at the Sorbonne. The book is as eloquent as it is forthright. Kofman recalls her father and family in the years before the war, then turns to the terrors and confusions of her own childhood in Paris during the German occupation. Not long after her father's disappearance, Kofman and her mother took refuge in the apartment of a Christian woman on Rue Labat, where they remained until the Liberation. This bold woman, whom Kofman called Mimi, undoubtedly saved the young girl and her mother from the death camps. But Kofman's close attachment to Mimi also resulted in a rupture between mother and child that was never to be fully healed. This slender volume is distinguished by the author's clear prose, the carefully recounted horrors of her childhood, and the uncommon poise that came to her only with the passage of many years. Rue Ordener, Rue Labat was first published in France in 1994. Sarah Kofman, best known as a philosopher and theoretician, died that same year. Ann Smock is an associate professor of French at the University of California, Berkeley. She is the author of Double Dealing (Nebraska 1986) and the translator of Blanchot's The Writing of the Disaster (Nebraska 1986).

12 Essential Minerals for Cellular Health: An Introduction to Cell Salts, David R. Card , 2007, 1890772712, 9781890772710. This book presents a short, simple and readily-accessible summary of the internal and external therapeutic uses of the 12 essential tissue salts, commonly called cell salts. Europeans have used of cell salts for many years, and this homeopathic treatment is gaining popularity in the US. Cell salts are the inorganic biochemical elements found in the blood and tissues, the catalysts for many essential processes. For example, most people have heard of potassium chloride, but probably few realize that it is first a tissue salt essential to digestion. This salt unites with hydrogen to form HCL (hydrochloric acid), aids in the production of bile, serves as an alkalizer, and helps in digestive enzyme formation. Therefore, it is a dynamic component of health. Twelve cell salts. Much of what has been previously written on cell salts is in somewhat archaic medical language, which is decidedly hard to understand. Mr. Cards new book is different. He explains cell salts in a comprehensive fashion, yet simply, and in modern language; gives clear instruction in how to use cell salts, and supplies extensive lists of various diseases. * external uses of cell salts * a correspondence between the twelve signs of the zodiac and cell salts

Nicolas-Louis De La Caille, Astronomer and Geodesist, Ian Stewart Glass, 2012, 019966840X, 9780199668403. La Caille was one of the observational astronomers and geodesists who followed Newton in developing ideas about celestial mechanics and the shape of the earth. He provided data to the great 18th-century mathematicians involved in understanding the complex gravitational effects that the heavenly bodies have on one another. Observing from the Cape of Good Hope, he made the first ever telescopic sky survey and gave many of the southern constellations their present-day names. He measured the paths of the planets and determined their distances by trigonometry. In addition, he made a controversial measurement of the radius of the earth that seemed to prove it was pear-shaped. On a practical level, La Caille developed the method of 'Lunars' for determining longitudes at sea. He mapped the Cape. As an influential teacher he propagated Newton's theory of universal gravitation at a time when it was only beginning to be accepted on the European continent. This book gives the most comprehensive overview so far available of La Caille's life and work, showing how he interacted with his often difficult colleagues. It places special emphasis on his life at, and his observations and comments on, the Cape of Good Hope, where he spent the years 1751-53.

Passing Through Time: Conversations with the Other Side , 2013, 0992273501, 9780992273507. Have you ever wondered where we go when we die? Have you had someone close to you die and just wish you could have one last chance to be in contact with them? Have you ever been immersed in grief so strong you felt there was never going to be a chance to love and laugh again? Jason was a strong, fit and healthy young man with everything to look forward to in life. His death of a heart attack at 29 years of age was a sudden shock to his loved ones. It was days later that he started to communicate with his sister Nicole. Death or as Jason likes to call it Passing through Time, is not the end, but a continuing journey to become one with the God-Self, God-Force in each one of us. Every ones passing is unique and personal and Jason describes what each one sees and most importantly feels, whether it is a child or the elderly, an accident or suicide. His love for life shines through the pages of the book and his cheekiness and larkish awareness of all that is happening around him is honest and heartwarming to all who read his words. Here's what you will learn: Jason brings an awareness of what we have lost; our connection to each other, and urges each and everyone of us to know we have never been alone, and never will be. He urges all who read his words to communicate with their loved ones now and after their passing. He teaches all of us about Colours and Energy. That Angels really do exist and how you can draw them to you. What is the God-Force/God-Self within each one of us? Laced within each chapter is a journal quote from Jason and Nicole's Mother Diane. Passing through Time is for all ages, all beliefs, and especially for all those who know that the love of another who passes never dies. Passing through Time will open your eyes to a world we have been so closed off from for so long.

Prospecting Your Way to Sales Success: How to Find New Business by Phone, Bill Good , 1986, 0684186209, 9780684186207. For over a decade, Bill Good's guide to increasing new business by finding prospective customers who are more likely to say yes has been a direct-sales bible. Now completely revised and updated to cover e-mail, fax communication, and the Internet, it is the most valuable tool a salesperson can own. Anyone who does any prospecting or selling by phone -- from securities, insurance, and real-estate brokers to fund-raisers, suppliers, and bankers -- knows the frustrations and rejections inherent in "cold calling". In this book, the president of Bill Good Marketing shares his expert techniques for creating successful prospecting campaigns. Dismissing as time-wasting and demoralizing "old school" methods with their don't-believe-a-customer-who-says-no philosophy, Good helps salespeople generate a plan of attack for finding good prospects ("cherries") while quickly screening out unqualified, uninterested customers ("pits"). He walks the reader through all of the variables of effective sales prospecting, including developing phone scripts and letters, searching the Internet for leads, and knowing how and when to close the deal. Complete with tips on motivation, time-management, and recordkeeping, and a special section on troubleshooting common problems, this new edition of Prospecting Your Way to Sales Success will remain the industry bible for years to come.

Kumar & Clark's Cases in Clinical Medicine, Parveen Kumar, Michael L Clark , 2013, 0702054712, 9780702054716. This is new edition of the book previously called Acute Clinical Medicine in the highly popular Kumar and Clark family. Kumar & Clark's Cases in Clinical Medicine covers in pocketbook form the complete range of acute medical conditions and problems that junior doctors are likely to encounter during the first years of training. It takes a problem-based approach and is divided into chapters reflecting core medical specialties - including infectious diseases; STD; gastroenterology; etc. Each chapter is then subdivided into case-based problems, such as (for example) pyrexia of unknown origin (under the Infectious Disease Group), HIV/Aids (under STD) and Vomiting and Weight Loss (under Gastroenterology). Each problem follows a standard pattern or template: it begins with a case history, and is accompanied by short, succinct text divided up by headings such as 'What are the commonest causes of...'; 'What factors predispose to...'. Where relevant there are also sections on pathology, pathophysiology and prognosis. Important points to note in the acute context are picked out in boxes ('Beware', 'Remember!' and 'Information') as are vital investigations.

Deruta: A Tradition of Italian Ceramics, , 1998, 0811817946, 9780811817943. The world can never get enough of wonderful Italy and all things Italian. The famed ceramics of Deruta are certainly no exception. The first comprehensive book to celebrate the design and evolution of this extraordinary art form, Deruta is exquisitely illustrated with over 150 colorful photographs of coveted "majolica." The author and photographers, working with Melanie Doherty, who was a designer in Italy for several years, dramatically portray the splendors of this living tradition. We see the finest examples of Deruta tableware and tilework as well as garden decorations, fa?ades, altars, and architectural details. While some pieces are highly collectible, others are inexpensive and perfect for everyday use. Deruta also includes profiles of the artisans' studios and a gallery of their work, as well as evocative black-and-white photos of the hill town they call home. With a history of the craftan artistic heritage more than six centuries oldthis singular volume is a musthave for collectors and for anyone inspired by Deruta ceramics, decorative art pieces that evoke the spirit of the Italian countryside.

Writing with Scissors: American Scrapbooks from the Civil War to the Harlem Renaissance, Ellen Gruber Garvey , 2012, 0199927693, 9780199927692. Men and women 150 years ago grappled with information overload by making scrapbooksthe ancestors of Google and blogging. From Abraham Lincoln to Susan B. Anthony, African American janitors to farmwomen, abolitionists to Confederates, people cut out and pasted down their reading. Writing with Scissors opens a new window into the feelings and thoughts of ordinary and extraordinary Americans. Like us, nineteenth-century readers spoke back to the media, and treasured what mattered to them. In this groundbreaking book, Ellen Gruber Garvey reveals a previously unexplored layer of American popular culture, where the proliferating cheap press touched the lives of activists and mourning parents, and all who yearned for a place in history. Scrapbook makers documented their feelings about momentous public events such as living through the Civil War, mediated through the newspapers. African Americans and women's rights activists collected, concentrated, and critiqued accounts from a press that they did not control to create "unwritten histories" in books they wrote with scissors. Whether scrapbook makers pasted their clippings into blank books, sermon collections, or the pre-gummed scrapbook that Mark Twain invented, they claimed ownership of their reading. They created their own democratic archives. Writing with Scissors argues that people have long had a strong personal relationship to media. Like newspaper editors who enthusiastically "scissorized" and reprinted attractive items from other newspapers, scrapbook makers passed their reading along to family and community. This book explains how their scrapbooks underlie our present-day ways of thinking about information, news, and what we do with it.

Time of Change: Civil Rights Photographs 1961-1965, , 2002, 0971368112, 9780971368118. On May 25, 1961, Bruce Davison joined a group of Freedom Riders traveling by bus from Montgomery, Alabama to Jackson, Mississippi. The actions of these youths challenged and disobeyed federal laws allowing for integrated interstate bus travel. These historic episodes, which ended in violence and arrests, marked the beginning of Davidson's exploration into the heart and soul of the civil rights movement in the United States during the years 1961-1965. In 1962, Davidson received a Guggenheim Fellowship and continued documenting the era, including an early Malcolm X rally in Harlem, steel workers in Chicago, a Ku Klux Klan cross burning near Atlanta, farm migrant camps in South Carolina, cotton picking in Mississippi, protest demonstrations in Birmingham, and the heroic Selma March that led to the Voting Rights Act of 1965, which was instrumental in changing the political power base in the segregated Southern states. In the 140 photographs collected here, many of which have never before been published, we see intimate and revealing portraits of Dr. Martin Luther King Jr., John Lewis, and other leaders made by Davidson during those turbulent times. These images describe the mood that prevailed during the civil rights movement with a lyrical imagery that is both poignant and profound. As Davidson bears witness to these historical events, and documents the degradation and segregation that were endured, he gives testimony to the struggle for freedom, equality, justice, and human dignity.

There Is No Death and There Are No Dead, Lisa Butler, Tom Butler , 2010, . This book provides an extensive history of Electronic Voice Phenomena (EVP) and Instrumental Transcommunication (ITC). You will come to understand that these phenomena have been documented over a longer period of time than you might have first realized. The first part of this book contains chapters with stories and examples of EVP and ITC. These are just a few of many such stories. The number of people that have experienced these communications adds to the validity that these paranormal voices and pictures are real occurrences. Most of the people who collect these phenomena will tell you that they were not born with any special gifts, and that anyone can receive the voices and pictures with a little patience and persistence. In the second part of the book, you will find detailed information on how to conduct experiments to record the voices and images from the other side.

CESMM3: Civil Engineering Standard Method of Measurement, Institution of Civil Engineers \(Great Britain\) , 1991, 0727715615, 9780727715616. The Civil Engineering Standard Method of Measurement - CESMM has been well-established for 15 years as the standard for the preparation of bills of quantities in civil engineering work. This third edition, CESMM3, brings the method into line with changes in industry practices and extends its usage into several new areas. The main changes are: amendments to bring CESMM3 into line with the ICE Conditions of Contract, 6th edition the standard method of measurement for water mains renovation has been included to cater for the needs of users who found that this activity was not satisfactorily catered for in CESMM2 a series of amendments to bring CESMM3 into line with recent developments, such as changes in British Standards a completely new class, class Z, has been included to provide users with the ability to specify a simple building works incidental to civil engineering works within a CESMM bill without having to resort to the use of a building method of measurement CESMM3 has been produced under the auspices of the ICE's CESMM Review Panel with the drafting carried out by a team from Coopers & Lybrand under the leadership of Dr Martin Barnes. E C Harris: Quantity Surveying provided the proposals which formed the basis of Class Z.

An Eagle Named Freedom LP: My True Story of a Remarkable Friendship, Jeff Guidry , 2010, 0061945722, 9780061945724. From the moment Jeff Guidry saw the baby eagle with broken wings, his life was changed. For weeks he and the staff at Sarvey Wildlife Care Center tended to the grievously injured bird. Miraculously, she recovered. And after Jeff was diagnosed with stage 3 non-Hodgkin's lymphoma in 2000, Freedom returned his gift. While undergoing chemotherapy, the time Jeff spent with Freedom soothed his spirit and gave him the strength to fight. When he learned he was cancer free, he shared his news on a walk with Freedom. Somehow this special bird seemed to understand the significance of the day; for the first time, she wrapped both her wings around Jeff in an avian hug. In March 2008, Jeff shared his extraordinary experience in an email to a friend that would unexpectedly circle the globe and inspire countless fans. In An Eagle Named Freedom, Jeff tells the full story of his bond with Freedom and introduces the other wildlife and volunteers who have been saved by Sarvey. A tender tale of hope, love, trust, and life, this true story is an affirmation of the spiritual connection that humans and animals share.

Master of the Mountain, Cherise Sinclair , 2010, 1607379163, 9781607379164. When Rebecca's boyfriend talks her into vacationing at a mountain lodge with his swing club, she quickly learns she's not cut out for playing musical beds. Now she has nowhere to sleep. Logan, the lodge owner, finds her freezing on the porch. After hauling her inside, he warms her in his own bed, and there the experienced Dom discovers that Rebecca might not be a swinger...but she is definitely a submissive. Rebecca knows that no one can love her plump, scarred body. To her shock, lodge owner Logan not only disagrees, but ties her up and shows her just how much he enjoys her curves. Under his skilled hands, Rebecca not only loses her inhibitions, but also her heart. Damaged from the war, Logan considers himself too dangerous to be around the enticing little sub. He sends her away for her own safety, not realizing she believes she has once again been rejected because of her size. As Logan's mountains echo with her voice long after she's gone, he realizes she's taken his heart with her. But when he arrives in the city to reclaim her, Rebecca's phone has been disconnected and her apartment is empty... Dear Zoe, Philip Beard , 2006, 1440649545, 9781440649547. Philip Beard's stunning debut novel is fifteen-year-old Tess DeNunzio's letter to her sister, Zoe, lost to a hit-and-run driver on a day when it seemed that nothing mattered but the tragedies playing out in New York and Washington. Dear Zoe is a remarkable study of grief, adolescence, and healing with a pitch-perfect narrator who is at once sharp and naive, world-worried and self-centered, funny and heartbreakingly honest. Tess begins her letter to Zoe as a means of figuring out her own life, her place in the world, but the result is a novel of rare power and grace that tells us much about ours. BACKCOVER: Like The Lovely Bones, [Dear Zoe] is a piercing look at how family recovers from a devastating loss. Everything about this moving, powerful debut rings true. Booklist (starred review) Beard peels away the layers of his protagonist's anguish simply and sensitively. . . and creates real, multidimensional and affecting characters. The Washington Post The whole novel . . . rings with truth. The Buffalo News

ENGINEERING PRINCIPLES OF MECHANICAL VIBRATION is a textbook that is designed for use in senior level undergraduate and introductory and intermediate level graduate courses in mechanical vibration. The textbook assumes that students have a fundamental understanding of rigid body dynamics and ordinary differential equations. Engineering Principles of Mechanical Vibration is an applications oriented vibration textbook that contains complete developments of the equations associated with the many vibration principles discussed in the textbook. The textbook presents complete developments of solution techniques for ordinary and partial differential equations associated with lumped-parameter single-degree-of-freedom and multi-degree-of-freedom vibration systems and basic continuous vibration systems. It discusses principles associated with periodic, complex periodic, non-periodic, transient, and random vibration excitation and presents information related to vibration measurements and digital processing of vibration signals.

Investigation Into the West of London Breast Screening Service at Hammersmith Hospitals NHS Trust, April 2002, , 2002, 0117029904, 9780117029903. In October 2000 it was discovered that the West of London Breast Screening Service (WoLBSS) had sent a woman the wrong results of a mammogram. An enquiry showed that there were no robust protocols to ensure that women received the right results. As a result all the screenings since 1993 were re-examined and it was found that 123 women had received the wrong result. This is the report of the resulting CHI investigation, which took place between April 2001 and April 2002. It found that in not having proper protocols to ensure that women received the right results, WoLBSS had not learnt from a previous failure in another service and had not followed national guidelines. There was no rigorous quality control and a failure to comply with the recommendations of quality audits. Line management arrangements were ambiguous and confusing notation was used on results. The recommendations of the report are not only particular to the working of WoLBSS, they extend to the whole NHS breast screening programme.
