

Kansas Organic Workshop

Thursday, March 22, 2018
Douglas County Fairgrounds
Flory Meeting Hall
2110 Harper Street
Lawrence, Kansas 66049
9:00AM – 4:00PM

Organic farming is one of the fastest growing segments of agriculture. What is organic farming? What does it take to be certified organic? How do I market what I produce? This workshop is open to those with an interest in organic systems.

Topics covered will include:

- Organic system overview
- Organic certification process
- Soil health and fertility
- Organic livestock
- Marketing
- Financial opportunities
- Organic producer panel

Featured Speakers:

Ben Bowell, Organic Education Specialist, Oregon Tilth
Candy J. Thomas, Regional Soil Health Specialist, NRCS
Mark A. Janzen, Natural Resource Specialist, NRCS
Representatives from Kansas Organic Producers Association

The workshop is free. A catered lunch is available for $10.00 per person. Participants may also bring a sack lunch.

Registration/Lunch RSVP Deadline: March 14, 2018

Contact: Sue Ann Funk, Education and Outreach Coordinator
Douglas County Conservation District
785-843-4260, extension 128

