

Dream Like a Teen

Young Entrepreneur Virtual Round Table

Hosted by Mikaila from Me & the Bees Lemonade

Along with participants of Whole Kids Foundation's Young Entrepreneurs Program

What:

Hear from some of the nation's best and brightest young entrepreneurs as they share their wins, insights and key learnings to helping other youth start or grow their business in this virtual round table. This online event is free and open to the public.

Who:

Whole Kids Foundation is teaming up with business sensation Mikaila Ulmer, 16-year-old founder and CEO of Me & the Bees Lemonade, author of the new book "Bee Fearless: Dream Like a Kid," and one of TIME magazine's Top 30 Most Influential Teens to host the event. Mikaila will moderate a panel of youth speakers from the following organizations:

Rebel Ventures Green Garden Bakery
Growing Leaders Roots for the Home Team

When:

Saturday, Oct. 3, 2020 at 3pm CST.

Where:

On Zoom. Register to attend at <http://bit.ly/DreamLikeaTeen>

Why:

In the U.S., 8 in 10 students (77%) in grades 5 – 12 say they want to be their own boss, 45% say they plan to start their own business.

Details:

All event attendees will receive a digital copy of "The Kidpreneur's Guide to Building Your Own Buzziness Plan," a key excerpt from Mikaila's new book. Ten randomly selected attendees will also receive a gift bag that includes a signed copy of Mikaila's book, as well as products and recipes from the panelists' organizations.
