Call for the Paper/Book Chapter

“Work and life of a Professional Social Worker”

We call for a paper which will feature the work and life of a present or past Professional Social Worker. There have been some attempts to bring out the life and work of Professional Social Workers, but it is very limited. I hope this will motivate some of you to write about your own life and experiences of yourself or someone about, whom you know; which will be useful for others to learn from their work and experiences. This will be an opportunity to carry forward the work done by Professional Social Workers in India or of Indian origin, who did great work and had huge life experiences but never shared or shared with a limited number of people.

We do not want you to limit your writing under any particular headings however we would like to suggest to cover the following:

- Education • Designation • Affiliations
- Work experience • Major assignment
- Awards • Research • Social media link • Area of interest

Remember it is not just a CV or job application. So you have to write your biography which should be interesting and a learning experience for others. Please follow the APA 7th edition referencing guideline for referencing; avoid using footnotes or endnotes.

The volume will be published with any national reputed publisher with ISBN. There is no submission, processing or publication charges. It will be peer-reviewed and copyedited; you will get a final edited proof before publishing and copyright will be jointly with the authors and publishers mean both can reuse it as per their choice but commitment to keep informed each others. The volume editors have the right to modify the content or not to accept any of the paper for publication process.

We will be looking forward for your quick response. The authors should send their willingness along with their topic to avoid duplication as earliest. Please feel free to write to us or call us. Send your write to
