Dear Friends,

With each passing year, it becomes more critical for us to acknowledge that we live at a pivotal moment. Both locally and as members of the global community, we are experiencing a dramatically changing climate, as well as witnessing the impacts of deep-seated inequities among people in our community, the nation, and the world.

Throughout 2022, the Corvallis Sustainability Coalition seized the opportunity to empower individuals and organizations to join us in being part of local responses to these challenges and others that we share. We are part of a great transition, addressing some of the toughest problems that our community has ever faced – and, in the process, providing purpose, meaning, and a sense of hope to those who are working toward solutions.

On behalf of the Sustainability Coalition’s Steering Committee, I invite you to read this report to learn more about last year’s accomplishments and to join us in recognizing those who have generously contributed their time and gifts to the Sustainability Coalition.

We hope you will continue to participate in our collective journey to create a sustainable community – one that values environmental quality, social equity, and economic vitality. Together, we are positive agents of change.

With gratitude for your engagement and support,

Annette

Annette Mills, Facilitator/Director

Our mission:

To promote an ecologically, socially, and economically healthy city and county.

Shifting to renewable energy

- Partnering with the Oregon Clean Power Co-op and with support from local donors and community investors, the Sustainability Coalition is helping Corvallis make the transition to renewable energy. So far, Solarize Corvallis has completed eight large-scale projects.
- In 2022, we installed 30 kW of solar at Third Street Commons (Corvallis Housing First's newest housing facility) and 98 kW at Linus Pauling Middle School. We raised additional community investments to fund solar arrays at Franklin K-8 School and Cheldelin Middle School, which are expected to be installed in 2023.
- Each Solarize Corvallis project helps reduce greenhouse gas emissions, while saving the host organizations significant costs on their monthly electric bills.

Making our homes more energy efficient

- Energy Action Team members continued to educate residents, elected officials, and realtors about the benefits of Home Energy Scores. We sponsored a Home Energy Score webinar, emphasizing that HES programs address both equity and climate change by informing prospective owners what their energy bills might be and how their new homes could be made more energy efficient.
- Our Home Retrofit Clinics offer local homeowners free, 2-hour consultations, focusing on the home's energy use and helping their owners chart a path that moves away from the use of fossil fuels. Since the program was established in 2021, more than 100 households have benefited from the program, with homeowners learning about such improvements as electric heat pump water heaters and electric heat pumps to heat and cool their homes.
- We co-sponsored "Live Better – Electrify Your Life!", a webinar organized by Electrify Corvallis that provided information and guidance to residents about making the transition away from "natural" gas for home heating, water heating, and cooking.

Creating an inclusive community

- Our Community Inclusion and Natural Areas action teams joined forces to implement the Neighborhood Roots program, increasing "shade equity" by planting native trees on private properties. Volunteers identified a prospective neighborhood, reached out to residents in the summer, and held their first Neighborhood Roots Planting Party in November.
- The Coalition co-sponsored the Champinefu Lecture series, which is designed to inspire the Corvallis community to acknowledge, understand, and collaborate with the Kalapuya culture. The series' focus for 2022 was on Kalapuya placekeeping.
- Our Steering Committee adopted an Equity, Diversity, and Inclusion (EDI) Framework for making EDI systemic throughout the Coalition's work. They began to implement it by including discussion of EDI resources as part of their monthly meetings.

Promoting economic vitality

- Our Economic Vitality Action Team initiated 3rd Thursday – a monthly celebration featuring local artists, local businesses, and local food offerings, primarily at venues within walking distance of downtown Corvallis.
- Our Saving Green program staff helped nine Corvallis workplaces take advantage of Energy Trust's no-cost LED lighting upgrades, conducted several new on-site sustainability assessments, and coordinated the launch of Benton To Go to reduce packaging costs.
- Our Food Action Team's IOU Corvallis program infused more than $51,000 into our local economy by purchasing meals at 58 local restaurants, many owned by BIPOC individuals or first-generation immigrants.

Protecting natural areas

- The North Dunawi Creek Regeneration site near Bald Hill is one of 13 active sites in Corvallis being regenerated by our Water Action Team. Our volunteers have planted and maintained over 8,000 native creekside plants at the Bald Hill site. In 2022, the team disabled 100 year-old underground pipes that drained the stream, and they built diversion structures from woody material to prepare for the new stream flow. The team also completed a lengthy permitting process to replace a small 100 year-old culvert with a much larger one that will allow water to enter the wetland.
- The team continued to regenerate a functional wetland at Starker Arts Park, planting many more wetland species, increasing wetland habitats, and improving the wetland soils.
- At Lamprey Creek in Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Park, the team continued to develop the native riparian buffer to further protect the stream during the upcoming park development.

Fostering a secure local food system

- Our Food Action Team sustained and expanded It's On Us (IOU) Corvallis, feeding people in need of a meal while supporting local restaurants. For the first time, IOU Corvallis supported local farmers by providing IOU recipients with gift cards for use at the Philomath Farmers' Market and at Fill Your Pantry, offering fresh local produce and storage crops to people in need.
- The team distributed 500 copies of the 2022 edition of the Corvallis Garden Resource Guide and organized a highly successful Edible Garden Tour that focused on five gardens in South Corvallis. Their Neighborhood Planters Kiosks (NPKs), located at 32 residential and public sites, displayed weekly informational posters to support gardening and neighborhood connections.
- They also adopted two new projects, Cooks & Books and the Public Seed Library, each of which encourages use of our public library and strengthens community participation in the creation of a sustainable local food system.

Encouraging waste prevention

- The Sustainability Coalition launched Benton To Go – a reusable takeout container program to help local restaurants cut costs and their customers cut waste. At each of the nine restaurants participating in the pilot program, customers purchase a Benton To Go container from a participating restaurant, then rinse and return it to any of those restaurants in exchange for either another sanitized container with their next meal, or a voucher for a container with a future meal.
- Our No Food Left Behind program distributed thousands of “Smart Strategies” in English and Spanish, teaching how and why to prevent wasted food at home. We also distributed hundreds of countertop composting pails to make sure inedible food scraps make it from kitchen-to-compost instead of from lunch-to-landfill.

Supporting sustainable transportation

- Transportation Action Team volunteers organized two highly successful electric vehicle “Show & Tell” events to inspire potential EV owners. Current owners of electric cars and electric bikes, trikes, uniwheels, boards, and scooters were all eager to show attendees the benefits and special attributes of their vehicles.
- The team resumed the Bike Valet program by providing more than 200 bicyclists with protected bike parking during Septemberfest, and they provided bike racks for Open Streets Corvallis, Fall Festival, Funk in the Forest, and the SAGE concert series at Starker Arts Park. The bike racks were transported across town by bike!

2022 DEVELOPMENT HIGHLIGHTS

We continued to develop a strong financial base for the organization in several ways.

- Raised $134,000 in community investments to support Solarize Corvallis solar installations at Linus Pauling Middle School, Cheldelin Middle School, and Franklin K-8 School
- Successfully applied for three grants to support It's On Us Corvallis:
 - $100,000 from American Rescue Plan Act funding
 - $5,000 from Benton Community Foundation
 - $11,000 from community grassroots philanthropy through 100 People Who Care
- Increased the number of Engaged Partner donations (individual and organizational gifts at the $250+ level, earmarked for our General Fund and Endowment Fund)
- Increased the number of monthly donors who support the Coalition
- Continued to raise funds for the Annette Mills Corvallis Sustainability Coalition Endowment Fund

OUR VISION FOR THE COMMUNITY

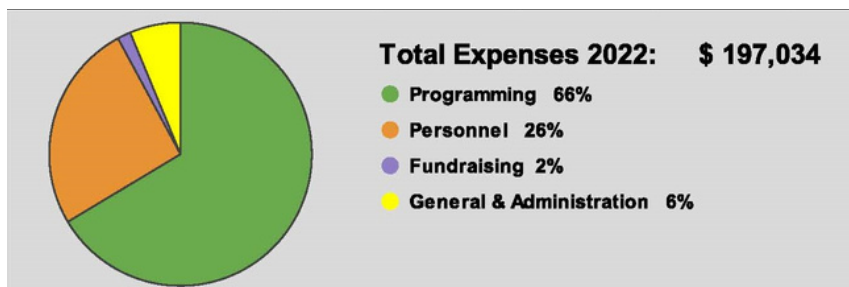

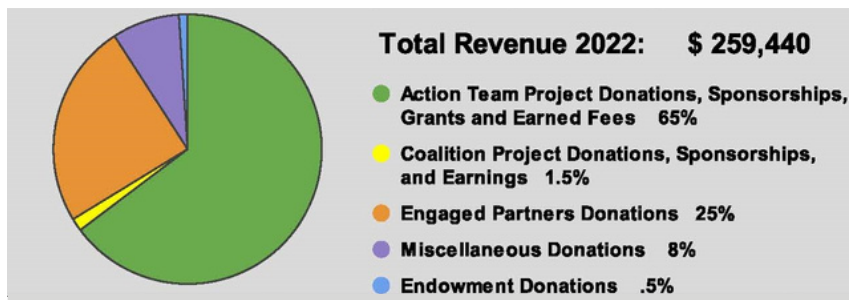

Corvallis is a community in which the needs of the present are met without compromising the ability of future generations to meet their own needs. It is a flourishing and thriving city with a vibrant economy that respects, restores, and cares for the community of life.

OUR GUIDING OBJECTIVES

Our community will:

1. Reduce and ultimately eliminate our community's contribution to fossil fuel dependence and to wasteful use of scarce metals and minerals. Use renewable resources whenever possible.
2. Reduce and ultimately eliminate our community's contribution to dependence upon persistent chemicals and wasteful use of synthetic substances. Use biologically safe products whenever possible.
3. Reduce and ultimately eliminate our community's contribution to encroachment upon nature (e.g., land, water, wildlife, forests, soil, ecosystems). Protect natural ecosystems.
4. Support people's capacity to meet their basic needs fairly and efficiently.

FINANCIAL SUMMARY

3 ways YOU can help the Coalition continue to develop!

1. Send us a note about how your involvement with the Coalition has touched your life.
2. Tell one new person about the Coalition in 2022.
3. Consider a financial gift or an increase in your giving this year.

Our Housing Action Team sponsored a webinar to provide an overview and assessment of the SafePlace microshelter program that the Coalition had helped launch.

Displays such as this have been produced by the Coalition's Water Action Team and placed at their project sites throughout the community. These displays serve to educate and inspire people to regenerate native ecological treasures.

The Coalition has stepped up to help revive our critical wetlands in the Willamette Valley. This display at Starker Arts Park explains why wetlands are so important.

A family-focused event at C3 featured videos of our lively in-school presentation, "Food: Too Good To Waste!" Audience members participated in a Seed-to-Plate activity, songs and chants about not wasting food, and tasting tables prepared by the CHS Green Team.

Each of our action teams is working toward the vision of one of the 12 topic areas outlined in the Community Sustainability Action Framework. Action teams are responsible for:

- Working on projects selected and designed by action team members
- Identifying and convening partners for collaborative actions
- Working with other teams to address interrelated goals and actions

During 2022, Coalition action teams worked on more than 40 projects! If you would like to be a part of the action, please let us know. We invite you to visit our website to learn more about volunteer opportunities. Thank you!
