

FREE

The G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education presents:

Sustainability Thought-Leaders Symposium 2013

Topic: Environmental, Social, and Economic Sustainability in Challenging Times – Exploring the Options

Date: Wednesday, February 13, 2013
Time: 7:30 p.m.–10:00 p.m.
Location: The Chang School, Ryerson University, Heaslip House
Peter Bronfman Learning Centre, 7th Floor
RSVP: www.ryerson.ca/ce/changschool/events

Join us for The Chang School at Ryerson University's annual Sustainability Thought-Leaders Symposium. This symposium series was developed to generate awareness in sustainability by featuring a discussion that involves the three bottom lines of sustainable development: social, economic, and environmental dimensions. The 2013 symposium will include a panel of three keynote speakers who will speak about this year's topic, followed by a panel discussion and a Q&A session.

Professor Alex Ferworn, CD, PhD

Professor Alex Ferworn received his Doctorate of Systems Design Engineering from the University of Waterloo. He is currently a faculty member in the Ryerson University School of Computer Science, and director of a number of certificate programs for The G. Raymond Chang School of Continuing Education. His Canine Augmentation Technology (CAT) project was awarded two Ontario Government Showcase Awards of Excellence for Project Achievement. . In 2010, he was nominated as one of the "Best Lecturers" by TV Ontario's Big Ideas program. He is the author of numerous peer-reviewed papers and has contributed chapters to various books. His work has also been popularized by extensive coverage in the media.

Dr. Mark Gorgolewski, BSc, MSc, PhD, DIP ARCH, LEED AP

Dr. Mark Gorgolewski is a professor and program director for the graduate program in Building Science in the Department of Architectural Science at Ryerson University. He is a director of the Canada Green Building Council and has worked for many years as an architect, researcher, and environmental consultant to the construction industry in Canada and Europe. He has published many books, articles, and papers on issues of the sustainable built environment.

Dr. Kernaghan Webb, LL.B., LL.M., LL.D.

Dr. Kernaghan Webb is an associate professor in the Department of Law and Business at Ryerson University's Ted Rogers School of Management, and is the founding director of the Institute for the Study of Corporate Social Responsibility. Dr. Webb has written and published extensively on innovative approaches to regulation (such as CSR); his work has been quoted and followed by the Supreme Court of Canada; and he is the recipient of the 2012 Standards Council of Canada National Award of Excellence for his work on social responsibility and consumer standards.

The Sustainability Thought-Leaders Symposium is organized the Certificate in Sustainability Management program. The Ryerson Institute for the Study of Corporate Social Responsibility is pleased to be a co-sponsor of this event (www.ryerson.ca/csrinstitute). For more information about the symposium or the Certificate in Sustainability Management please visit www.ryerson.ca/ce/sustain

THE CHANG SCHOOL

RYERSON UNIVERSITY
CONTINUING EDUCATION